Pittsburgh Drug Clerk Shot Down By Negro Bandit

Harry Siegel, 28, Assistant Manager Of Drug Store Deliberately Murdered

FRIEND OF SLAIN MAN THREATENED

Manhunt Started By Police Department As City Is Aroused By Wanton Killing

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 4.—Harry Siegel, 28, assistant manager of the Walgreen drug store here, was shot and killed today by a masked negro bandit who rifled Siegel's clothing as the victim lay dying on the floor. The negro escaped.

Aroused by the wanton murder of the non-resisting drug clerk, police ordered out every available radio cruiser in a search for the bandit.

Fires Pointblank. Siegel, accompanied by Daniel Korn, 27, a friend, was leaving the store early this morning. At the head of a small stairway in the store they were confronted by the negro who had concealed himself on the stairway during the night.

The bandit said: "Stick 'em up, both of you. Stick 'em up."

Without further warning he fired one shot at pointblank range. Siegel crumpled to the floor, fatally wounded. As Korn stepped forward to help his friend, the negro ordered: "Down on the floor, you, or you'll get the same as he got."

After taking Siegel's wallet and removing a few small bills the negro threw the wallet on the floor and fled into the street.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Yesterday afternoon's shower was just one of the many peculiar local showers which have been experienced this summer. In quite a few instances, rain would be reported in some sections of the city, while in others, not a drop would fall. The North Hill seemed to be the only section materially benefited yesterday.

Some sort of a campaign should be made against motorists who try to beat the red light. Pa. News has observed a number of instances (Continued On Page Two)

Fearing Parents Youth Suicides

Fears Parental Wrath Because Of Wrecking Father's Automobile

(International News Service) GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 4.—Fearing parental wrath because he had wrecked his father's automobile, Raymond Anderson, 19, today crawled home from the scene of the accident and killed himself by firing a revolver bullet into his head, the coroner's office reported. Anderson had taken his girl friend home and was enroute to his home at Colonial Park Inn near Delmont when the machine was wrecked. Despite his injuries, the youth made his way home, clambered up the roof of the porch to avoid waking his parents, procured the gun and shot himself.

STEAMER MAIL POUCH WITH $25,000 IN CURRENCY MISSING

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Steamship and postal authorities today united in a search for a package containing $25,000 in currency, which disappeared from a mail pouch arriving here on the liner Mauretania from Nassau, Bahamas, on June 8. The package was consigned to the New York branch of the Royal Bank of Canada. The seals of the pouch were unbroken and there was no evidence of tampering when the pouch was delivered to postal authorities.

It was learned. But later when the outside pouch was opened the inner pouch was found to have been slit and a smaller leather bag inside had been cut open. The robbery was believed to have occurred in Nassau because the seals were intact when the package was placed on board the Mauretania and the same condition when taken from the liner.

Seattle To Tokyo Fliers Couldn't Locate Refuelling Plane In Fog; Forced Down

(International News Service) FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 4.—For the second time, Reg L. Robbins and Harold S. Jones, flying Texans, declared today that their hopes of flying non-stop from Seattle to Tokyo for a $25,000 prize had evaporated.

After being in the air 26 hours and 33 minutes, the pilots of the "Fort Worth" descended at Weeks Field yesterday. Fog and clouds made it impossible for them to locate their refueling plane, and they landed here after a search.

The ship for which they were hunting, and from which they were to have taken on additional gasoline before proceeding to Nome and thence over the Behring Sea, landed at Ruby, Alaska, between Fairbanks and Nome.

Find Woman's Body In Water

Youths Discover Drowning Victim At Grove City This Morning

(Special To The News) GROVE CITY, Aug. 4.—Paul Ritter, Grove City youth, discovered the body of an unidentified woman aged about 40 years in the waters of Montgomery's Dam here this morning, while fishing.

Coroner W. C. McGrath, after investigating the circumstances, stated that he believed the woman was a suicide victim. She was seen in the vicinity of the dam about 10 o'clock Monday evening, by residents in that vicinity.

William Schultz, a blacksmith of Grove City, stated that he had picked up the woman along the highway yesterday and brought her to Grove City. She intimated to him that she lived in the vicinity of Jackson Center, and a search is being made in that locality for relatives of the woman.

She was attired in a blue flowered dress and wore no hat.

One Woman Dead; Four Persons Hurt In Auto Mishap

Accident Occurs Near Lewistown—Auto Collides With Bread Truck

(International News Service) LEWISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 4.—One woman was killed instantly and four other persons were injured, two of them critically, near Thompsonstown, east of here, today when their automobile collided with a bread truck. Mrs. Anna Bako, 32, of Johnstown, died instantly of a fractured skull and other injuries. Her husband, John J. Bako, was severely bruised and lacerated. A son, Victor 11, suffered a fractured skull, lacerations and internal injuries. Mrs. Mary Bruska, 24, also of Johnstown, a sister of Bako, suffered a fractured skull, fractured pelvis and internal hurts. A second son of the Bacos, John, 17, was slightly injured. The injured were hurried to Lewistown hospital where doctors said Victor and Mrs. Bruska would probably die.

The accident occurred just east of Thompsonstown when Bako, attempting to pass another car, lost control of his automobile and it slipped off the road shoulder.

Miss Isabelle Thomas of South Mercer street, is a house guest of the David Kay's summer home located at Maple Springs, New York. She will remain indefinitely.

New York Police Making Progress In Gang Probing

"No Immediate Arrests Expected," Says Commissioner Mulrooney Today

HOPE TO LOCATE "CHILD" KILLERS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Police Commissioner Mulrooney today reported his investigation of the killing of a child and wounding of four others by gangsters in a New York street was "progressing favorably" but the immediate arrests promised by the authorities were lacking.

Contrary to a previous statement by police, Mulrooney said no actual eye-witness to the children's shootings had been discovered. He said hundreds of tips, all without value, had been received by police since the offering of $30,000 in rewards for the arrest and conviction of the gangsters.

Ask Congress To Act. In the drive against racketeers and gunmen, a plan was announced to introduce a bill in congress prohibiting interstate transportation of firearms.

Racketeering was blamed by the authorities for the fourth murder in six days. The victim, found Monday trussed and wrapped in blankets in front of a cleaning establishment, was identified as Angelo Marino. Marino was arrested for felonious assault in 1928.

Heavy Damage In Storm's Path

Highways Blocked By Trees Near New York After Violent Storm

CONNECTICUT ALSO FEELS STORM EFFECT

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Highways near New York and in Connecticut were blocked by trees in many places today, many houses were damaged by lightning and crops were ruined as the result of a violent storm last night. The damage to property was estimated at several hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The rain, however, brought cooler weather after a day in which four persons died of the heat and two drowned.

One man died during the storm, after a tree struck his automobile. At Westport, Conn., a "twister" cut a path about three miles long (Continued On Page Two)

Teachers Institute Date Is Announced

Supt. John C. Syling Has Already Secured Some Of Instructors For October 5

County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, announces that the county teachers institute this year will open on October 5th, probably in the Union township high school building. Among the instructors who have already been engaged are Dr. Stanley L. Kules of the Institute of Mechanical Art, New York, and Dr. F. H. Gage of Millersville, Pa., State Teachers College. J. W. Yoder of Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., will have charge of the music. Other instructors have not yet been definitely engaged.

State Highway Surveys Being Made In County

With the State Highway Department taking over 20,000 miles of highway this month, considerable activity has been seen upon many of the dirt roads in Lawrence county. In this county some 195 miles of road are being taken over for maintenance, and in the course of time it is expected that some construction will be started. The appearance of highway engineers and chainmen upon the highways merely means that the department is getting a survey made of the roads so that the engineers will know exactly what conditions confront them when improvements are to be made.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News) BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 4.—No news any more in depression and no more news than truth in optimistic predictions. We not only cured our "big men" from predicting, but we just about cured 'em from thinking they was "big." Debts are 'bout all cancelled but our own. Heat is dying out. Grasshoppers are starving out. Nobody running for president on either side in '32 but Mr. Hoover and even he may lose his passion for punishment by then. So it just looks like nothing ever happens in our country but interest and taxes. Yours, Will Rogers

Boy Kills His Young Sister

Harold Burkholder, 11, Shot And Killed His Sister Vera, 7, Near Chambersburg

SHOOTS GIRL DOWN IN COLD MANNER

(International News Service) CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Aug. 4.—District Attorney Glenn Benedict and Judge Watson Davidson today pondered the strange case of 11-year-old Harold Burkholder who late yesterday shot and killed his sister, Vera, 7, at their farm at Upton, near here.

"I didn't mean to do it. The devil must have been in me," was the boy's explanation for the tragedy. According to the parents of the boy, Harold had been hunting grouse with his father's shotgun. He returned home, unsuccessful, and walked into the kitchen where his sister was playing.

Coroner Probing. Levelling the shotgun at her head, he pulled the trigger. The charge struck the girl in the neck and she fell, dying almost instantly. Coroner S. D. Shull, after an investigation, turned the case over to the district attorney and Judge Davidson for handling.

Mrs. Burkholder, prostrated by the affair, told county authorities her son was peaceable at school but had annoyed his sister often, and had thrown a knife at her one time and on several occasions had hurled bricks through a screen door at the girl.

Walter J. Cross Breaks Wrist In Four Places

Injured When Cranking Truck; Taken To Jameson Memorial Hospital

The many friends of Walter J. Cross who resides at 701 Wilmington avenue, will regret to learn that he is in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering with a broken wrist, which he sustained Monday afternoon when he went out in the yard to park the truck he drives for the Harmony Short Line. Mr. Cross, when he went to crank the machine, kicked him and broke his right wrist in four places. Although he is getting along as well as can be expected, he is suffering considerably.

Instalment Plan Babies

A Few Dollars Down, A Few Dollars A Week, And The Baby Is Yours Under New Hospital System

By BONITA WITT Central Press Staff Writer CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 4.—Do you know that you can "buy" babies on the instalment plan? A few dollars down, a few dollars a week and the baby is yours when it arrives, under a payment plan which is being used successfully in several Cleveland hospitals. Babies continue arriving, despite the depression, hence something must be done about paying for them as easily as possible. Hospital authorities have found that poor parents are appalled when presented with a bill for $36 after the arrival of the baby, but can manage to pay a few dollars weekly. Already used to paying on the instalment plan for the radio, the ice box and family

Major Foster Praises Boys

Says New Castle C. M. T. C. Lads Made Most Commendable Record

FOSTER ATTENDED FT. MEADE CAMP

Major Arthur Foster who has been attending the summer encampment at Fort Meade, Md., has returned, tanned as the result of his two weeks army experience, and enthusiastic over the showing of the New Castle boys in the Citizens Military Training Camp there. "The conduct of the boys from New Castle was universally good," said Major Foster. "They proved to be good soldiers, amenable to discipline, willing to work, and eager to learn. New Castle people can be proud of the boys and the officers over them were high in their praise of their records." "One New Castle citizen-soldier Ray Atkinson was awarded a scholarship in the Bliss Electrical school in Washington, D. C., for being the best soldier in his company, H company. Another one, Fred Blaha was commissioned as a second lieutenant and is now in the 80th Division School at Fort Meade." Mrs. Foster accompanied Major Foster to camp and before returning home they visited the caverns in the Shenandoah Valley and spent some time in Winchester, Va. He was attached to the School of Tactics as an instructor while in camp.

Lindberghs Ready To Continue On Northern Flight

Delayed Radio Message Says They Landed Safely At Baker Lake

WILL PROCEED ON TRIP THIS AFTERNOON

Flight Being Made Over Wild And Desolate Territory By Lindberghs

(International News Service) OTTAWA, Canada, Aug. 4.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who arrived safely at Baker Lake last night after a 375-mile flight from Churchill, will take off today on a continuation of his leisurely vacation flight to the Orient, government radio officials announced. His immediate destination after Baker Lake was not known, nor was it learned whether he contemplated any change in his route. The government message said the Lindberghs had landed at Baker Lake at 4 p. m. yesterday.

Radio Reception Poor. The message came through from the radio station at Baker Lake this morning but due to atmospheric conditions no further word has been received. Reception of messages from Mrs. Lindbergh, who is acting as radio operator for her noted husband, has

Report Edison Much Improved

Noted Inventor Spends Restful Night At New Jersey Home

(International News Service) WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 4.—Thomas A. Edison was much improved today. The inventor, who suffered a collapse on Saturday, spent a restful night.

He smoked a cigar last night and remained up until 11 p. m. Dr. Hubert S. Howe, who is attending the 84-year-old inventor, issued a bulletin shortly before midnight which said:

"This evening Mr. Edison showed encouraging improvement. He spent most of the evening enjoying the company of his family and amusing them with his numerous remarks. He has every prospect for a good night."

Mr. Edison stood the heat well and indications were he was responding to the constant care of his physicians and rigid adherence to a prescribed diet.

This summer heat and these dog days spell won't last as long as you wish, for the days are coming, it won't be long, when the weather is just my dish. When the blizzards bliz down the snowy street, it's then that you'll have to pay," and he laughed again as he started his car, it's up eighty-six today.

Scouts Prepare To Break Camp Last Of Week

Final Court Of Honor Will Be Held Friday Evening At Camp Phillips

FOOTBALL PLAYED MONDAY EVENING

Another lively day opened at Camp Phillips with a morning dip. It is the privilege of all swimmers to take this dip immediately after reveille. Those who are not taking the dip are led in short calisthenics by Doc Sankey. Practically the entire camp took the dip Monday morning. The boys agree that it develops appetites.

As this is the last week of camp all of the boys in camp are determined to advance in scout rank before the final Court of Honor which will be held in camp this Friday evening. Second and first class tests were passed during the morning instruction period by a majority of the boys as well as a number of merit badges.

The Wood Craft Lot which has been under the supervision of Leader Gordon Welch is filled with handicraft of the boys. Basketry and Leathercraft are still leading as favorites in the merit badge line as the great number of exhibits turned out by the boys this week will testify. John Stump and Gordon Welch are instructors and examiners in this interesting art. Huts Lion and Circle Lumber Co. tied for inspection honors today. The leader of this stockade is John Stump.

The inter troop race for the Gerson trophy is still being hotly contested. The West Pittsburgh Troop No. 1 is runner up at present with 600 points and Rotary Troop No. 1 is leading with 650 points. Boys in camp are making the most of the last scout week and idle moments are few. Taps ended an eventful day at 10:00 P. M.

During the afternoon activities period a hotly contested game of football featured with Hans Holm as umpire. The Pirates won the game by a score of 7 to 0.

Uniformed sea scouts formed the evening color guard. Sea Scouts Stump, Horton, Ziegler and Hawkins being chosen for this honor. A game of football was participated in after colors by the entire camp and later a game of Will o' the Wisp was played by the campers. Boys in camp are making the most of the last scout week and idle moments are few. Taps ended an eventful day at 10:00 P. M.

lately where motorists have completely ignored the lights and have kept on coming through after the light has changed from yellow to red. Very few people seem to pay any attention to the light at Park and Highland, anymore.

The idea of a swimming pool at the Municipal golf course is quite popular with those who frequent that place. A number of golfers stated Sunday that they felt it would add to the enjoyment of their families, if they could go out and swim while the rest of the family golfed. It would cost very little to build a dam in the spot selected for the pool, and the additional water required could be secured by drilling another well on the property.

Grasshopper Plague Is Not Looked For

Pennsylvania Farmers Hear Encouraging News From State Official

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 4.—Farmers of Pennsylvania need have little fear of a prolonged invasion of grasshoppers such as have devastated wide areas of farm lands in the mid-west, according to Dr. T. L. Guyton, chief entomologist of the State Department of Agriculture Bureau of Plant Industry.

Humidity of the eastern states, Dr. Guyton said, encourages a fungus disease which kills off the insects. Last year, the entomologist said, was much more favorable to such an invasion and many of the insects were reported in southern Pennsylvania counties but return of humidity this year makes unlikely a sizeable invasion.

been poor due to static and troubled weather conditions.

Government officials pointed out although definite word of the Lindberghs' arrival at Baker Lake was not received until today, no particular concern was felt because of the difficulty of communications with the out of the way Hudson Bay outpost.

Route Is Dangerous

Col. Lindbergh was informed before he left here that the northern route he has chosen for his flight to the Orient is considered by government fliers to be dangerous, and is generally avoided at this time of year.

Tupper Lake, believed to be one of Lindbergh's next objectives, lies 600 miles beyond Baker Lake over desolate and barren territory. It was stated in government circles today that the government had re-outfitted the radio station at Tupper Lake before Lindbergh started on his flight at a cost of $20,000.

INSTALMENT PLAN BABIES

cook stove, they stretch the budget just a little farther to include a payment on the baby.

Pay From Those Who Can

Hospitals are called upon continually for free service, which depletes their own budget. Every effort is made therefore, to have those who can afford to pay the actual minimum cost of hospital care, do so. Under the partial payment plan the parents are relieved of financial worry at the time of confinement and the hospital is much more likely to get its money before the baby arrives than afterward.

Prospective mothers pay whatever they believe they can afford each time they visit the pre-natal clinic. The deposit may be 25 cents or $5 as much as is convenient. The total of $56 covers two weeks hospitalization, pre-natal care and delivery.

Of 113 obstetrical cases at one hospital 20 have an income sufficient to pay a maximum of $55. This group pays on an average of 30 cents a week for 36 weeks. Regular patients pay from $6 to 25 cents a day for mother and baby. Doctor's fees are in addition.

Curious Psychology

Hospital authorities disclose the interesting fact, from a psychological standpoint, that patients who actually believe they are paying for what they are getting although the amount may be very small, will follow the doctor's orders implicitly and will take the prescribed medicines. If a patient gets a set of false teeth free of charge, he is apt not to wear them if they are uncomfortable at first. On the other hand, if he paid $10 for those teeth he believes that he must wear them. A small charge also lessens the danger of pauperizing patients.

When prospective mothers pay a small amount each time they come to the clinic, they listen carefully to the lectures, for they desire their money's worth. Thus, the instalment baby stands a good chance of getting intelligent attention when he comes into the world.

As listed in the bill, the total length of the streets to be taken over in cities of the Second class, second class A and Third class was estimated at nearly 300 miles. The check by the engineering corps is expected to show some change from this total. About three weeks will be necessary to complete the survey, highway department officials estimated.

Under the bill as passed by the Legislature the total mileage to be taken over in the various cities included:

Youthful Bandits Confess Robbery

Five Young Bandits, Four Men And Girl, Stage Robbery At Roadhouse

WOMAN WORKER STRUCK DOWN

(International News Service)

MT. LEBANON, Pa., Aug. 4.—Five youthful bandits, headed by an 18-year-old girl who gayly flourished a pistol and struck down a woman worker as they staged a stick-up, today signed confessions to robbery of a roadhouse on the Jonestown road, near here, County Detective George T. Tucker announced here.

The five, who were taken before an alderman and charged with robbery and carrying deadly weapons, are: Helena Frey 18, Richard Craul 17 and Alfred Freeman 20, all of Hanover, and Paul Clingan 18, and William Cullens 19, both of Littleton.

According to authorities, the five admitted they went to the roadhouse early yesterday, persuaded George Rank, proprietor, to reopen the place and serve them refreshments, and obtained admission. Inside, police said, the girl drew a gun, struck Laura Rodenheimer, an employee, over the head then held Rank at bay while her companions looted the cash register of $130 and took a quantity of cigars. They fled in an automobile.

SHRIVER REUNION AT CASCADE PARK

The annual reunion of the Shriver family was held Sunday at Cascade Park with 267 relatives and friends in attendance. The oldest guest present was Michael Sheely of St. Petersburg, Florida. He was an adopted child of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Shriver, deceased. The youngest who participated was Billy Clark, a great-grand child of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Shriver. Four generations were represented at this gathering.

At noon dinner was served in the grove, and at 6 o'clock supper was served. The leisure hours were spent with a program of sports and contests, with John and Charles Shriver in charge, for which prizes were awarded to the winners.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, a business meeting was called and a complete report given. During the past year, there have been five births, three marriages, and one death. Comments were heard at this time, and George Shriver of Youngstown, O., gave an excellent report of the family history as the concluding feature.

George Shriver was elected as general chairman of the committee for next year's event, which will be held at Cascade Park on the third Sunday in August. Mrs. John P. Thomas of New Castle, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas Francis, New Castle, secretary; and William Shriver of Cincinnati, O., as honorary chairman.

Guests were present from Youngstown, O.; Niles, O.; Akron, O.; Cincinnati, O.; Pittsburgh, New Kensington, DuBois, Parkers Landing, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Washington, Pa.

FOUR GENERATIONS PRESENT AT EVENT

Mrs. Rebecca C. Cochran who lives at 23 East street, graced the floor of honor, Sunday, when her family and friends numbering twenty gathered to celebrate her 88th birthday anniversary with a picnic dinner.

The affair was held at Lakewood Beach, and tables perfectly arranged overlooking the water, were decorated beautifully and in keeping with the occasion. The main table was centered with a large birthday cake, bearing 88 small lighted candles. Other novelties and appointments further expressed the color scheme of pink and white. Dinner and supper were served the guests, and during the leisure hours, informal diversions were in progress, and old friendships renewed.

There were four generations present at this event, and the only two great-grandchildren, namely, Lewis C. Kiser and Jesse Edmund Preston, participated at this happy affair. Mrs. Cochran's only living sister, out of a family of twelve, Mrs. Samahtha Sherbondy, and also her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Ross, all of Greenville, were the only out-of-town guests present.

A collection of many lovely gifts were received by the guest of honor, as well as messages and cards of congratulations from nearby and distant relatives and friends.

WILLIAM WIGNALL IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

A pleasant surprise was planned for William Wignall of Maryland avenue Monday evening when members of the St. Andrew's Muehall Team entertained at the home of John Hitchens on Lyndal street at the conclusion of their scheduled game, as a means of a celebration of his birthday anniversary.

The hours were spent most informally, and in a quiet manner and at a suitable time, an appetizing lunch was served by Anna Hitchens, assisted by her sister Florence Hitchens and Mrs. William Wignall. A color scheme of green and white was used effectively throughout in the menu and table appointments. Covers were laid for twenty-four.

At the close of the feature, the Rev. Samuel Black, rector presented Mr. Wignall with a handsome gift in behalf of the team and made a speech fitting to the occasion. The guest of honor, in turn, accepted in an appropriate manner, and expressed his appreciation for the courtesy extended him.

David Riley, captain of the team, and Ben Penry had charge of the arrangements.

CROTON CHOR VOIL PRESENT PROGRAM

WHAT MAKES PEOPLE MOODY?

Did you know that our health and our moods are closely related to intestinal cleanliness?

When the system is clogged by constipation, poisons are generated. Often these bring on headaches and listlessness. You feel blue, or become irritable.

The poisons of constipation frequently aggravate nervous troubles, rheumatism, high blood-pressure and heart trouble.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonsful daily are guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

Try it with milk or cream. Use in cooking too. Recipes on the red-and-green package. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

On Friday, Troop F, 103rd Cavalry will leave for camp at Mt. Gretna, and will be transported from here to the camp on a special train.

An additional 150 people will be handled between Pittsburgh and New Castle, who will arrive here Friday to attend the New Wilmington Missionary Conference. They will be brought to New Castle Junction on the regular train, where the coaches which will carry them to the city will be cut off and brought on to the West Side station.

Special coaches will be added to all trains travelling to Akron, O. Saturday for the accommodation of passengers who will attend the dedication of the U. S. Navy's big dirigible, Akron, which will be christened by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, prior to being placed in service this month.

Crossing Flasher Operates Wednesday

Officials of the Pennsylvania R. R. Company announced today, that the new flasher, which will warn traffic of the approach of trains at the Croton avenue crossing, will be put into operation at noon, Wednesday.

Because of the expense entailed in maintaining watchmen at the crossing, coupled with the fact that the gates are frequently broken by motorists, who ignore the stop signal, the flasher system was substituted. Only five trains pass over the crossing in 24 hours it was stated.

Two lights which flash alternately, are placed at either side of the crossing. When a train is approaching the crossing, the lights will keep flashing, until the train has cleared the crossing.

TIDE OF IMMIGRATION CHANGES

FOR the first time in the history of this nation the tide of immigration has changed. To put it specifically, more aliens departed from the country than entered it during the fiscal year which ended on June 30. Figures from Washington indicate that 97,139 were admitted and 107,376 departed during the period of twelve months. The significant fact is that the departures included 18,142 deportations. These persons sacrificed the possibilities of citizenship because they had criminal records. This is the fixed policy of the administration, and it has been hailed with approval by all law-abiding persons who think that the title of citizen in a republic like ours should be a badge of honor. It may be said that many of our own people are criminals. That is true, alas! but we have to endure them, and we do not have to endure those who come from foreign shores only to flaunt the government which furnishes the liberty and freedom denied them in their own lands.

The news that this country is sending more people away than it is admitting is really epoch-making. Until last year traffic westward "was so overwhelming as almost to constitute a one-way route." The change really began a decade ago, when the bars were first put up against unrestricted immigration. Prior to that time it was not uncommon to have a million new-comers enter the country in a single year. To say that we were not able to assimilate them is to put the case mildly. That many of them were undesirable goes without saying. In the pioneer days of the nation we welcomed great numbers from Europe. Their descendants today are among our most public-spirited men and women. Later it was found necessary to adopt a selective system. This has grown more and more rigid until we have finally reached the point where there is virtually no immigration.

The economic effects of this policy are important and far-reaching. If it had not been adopted the number of the unemployed would be easily twice as great as it is, with distress multiplied many times. Our immigration system goes hand in hand with our protective tariff policy. Both are in the interest of labor and in upholding our standards of living. Few would care to shut out immigration altogether; but it is very evident that for the future it will have to be carefully and intelligently regulated.

STATES PLANT MANY TREES

Some idea of the extent to which the United States has become tree conscious is gained by the report of the Department of Agriculture showing that last year more than 79,000,000 trees were distributed for reforestation purposes in 39 states and the territories of Hawaii and Porto Rico. Upward of one-third of this replacement of timber was under the provisions of the Clarke-McNary law setting up a co-operative plan for planting as windbreaks, shelter belts and farm woodlands.

In reforestation, as in taxpaying and otherwise, New York leads, this report shows. All told, 24,960,000 trees were distributed for planting in this state in 1930. Michigan followed with 19,000,000, and Pennsylvania's plantings numbered 9,500,000. More than one-third, or 34,443,654 trees, were provided for the reforestation of state-owned lands while for planting on private lands other than farms 23,039,760 trees were distributed.

When to these state operations in providing for trees to conserve the nation's natural resources in soil and stream and in wooded wealth are added the similar activities of the Forest Service in the federal government's national park system it is seen that the task of averting the disaster threatening a denuded land is well under way. If reforestation is continued at this rate, it will not be long before there will be many more forests where needed in this country.

OVEREMPHASIS ON WHEAT SITUATION

A press service representing the Corn Belt calls attention to over-emphasis on the wheat situation which distorts the general conception of agricultural conditions in the popular mind. Undoubtedly the wheat farmers face a serious plight. Prices today on a level with the 90's are actually the lowest in history because production, transportation and marketing costs absorb the prospect of margin to an unprecedented degree. In the Southwest and regions remote from the centers the growers are taking twenty-five cents and less. For necessities they are reduced to a system of barter.

But this dark spot on the agricultural map is not characteristic of the whole view. In fact, wheat represents only six to eight per cent of the total value of farm production. About 70 per cent consists of live stock and live stock products. Here the demand is more favorable than in recent years, the supply is smaller and the returns are correspondingly gratifying to the farmer. The meat outlook in particular is hopeful enough to offset gloomy forebodings of those whom excess grain harvests are impoverishing.

Perhaps it is not surprising that wheat is regarded as a pivotal crop, much as steel is regarded as a pivotal stock in Wall Street. Steel quotations may fall while other securities are rising, but long habit of thought has made a barometer of steel. There is, of course, something more substantial than mere speculative psychology to warrant this attitude. Every industry requires steel; the metal is a basic commodity. For that reason stock market conditions are often conveniently summarized by a glance at the fluctuations of steel.

For centuries wheat occupied the same traditional position. But in a more literal sense than ever before man does not now live by bread alone. Indeed he seems to thrive very well without any bread; at least the women in his family do. Nor is the change wholly a fad. Health experts have been urging a more diversified diet. As a result King Wheat has fallen upon the evil days which have beset kings in the political realm. In some instances, too, the revolution brought the same lack of stability to our economic conditions as had followed in the wake of those countries which dethroned their monarchs. The transition has been attended with difficulties.

News of this kind is scarcely consoling in regions like Kansas, where wheat is still the major staple. Adjustment to a new order is painful there and sympathy is widely felt for the victims of it. Nevertheless there will be gratification at learning that the agricultural situation as a whole is less serious than imagined by those who based their generalizations on a cross-section of the wheat problem. The fact that it covers only six or eight per cent of the crop area is a definite detail given with statistical conviction which should inspire the whole country into a more optimistic mood.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Men Fuss About "Modern Women"
And Think of Their Mothers
But Their Mothers Suffered,
Too

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Some men say: "I don't understand these modern women. They're never satisfied. They're always wanting to be doing things, going places. They never want to stay home. They're always tired and always getting sick. They can't have children or when they do have them they can't nurse them. And, what's worse, they're never happy."

Why can't they be like our mothers? Our mothers had six, eight or ten children and had them right at home. No hospitals for them. They raised the children and made their clothes and tended them when they were sick and sometimes they did the family washing and always they did the cooking.

They put up preserves by the hundreds of jars, they did their own butchering and they never had any vacations and they hardly ever went anywhere at night and they had almost no "help" in the house and very little money to do things with and they stayed cheerful and healthy and lived to be 70 and 80 and 90 years old. Why can't modern women be like that?

I don't know. But my own private guess is that they have too much sense.

What woman, if she can get out of it, will slave her life away, doing endless chores, suffering illnesses uncomplainingly, seeing youth and strength and beauty pass from her, and never know anything but the washbowl and the kitchen stove and her own little house? And what woman was ever happy living only that kind of life?

My second guess about those cheerful patient mothers of the past is that they were not so cheerful, not so patient, not so subdued as some people think.

They were wise enough to know that the lives they lived were not perfect ones. So they told their troubles to other women who had the same grievances and could understand.

Over the fence, at a little sewing circle, coming away from prayer meeting, women sometimes confided their miseries to each other and won a sorry relief for themselves in the knowledge that other women had troubles, too. They could not help themselves, nor could their men do much to help them.

So some became scolding shrews, and some put their faith and trust in a possible future, when their children would be grown up and gone and at last they could sit in a rocker and rest.

That's the black side of the picture, of course. I understand that. I know there was happiness in the past, as there is today. But I can't help believing that the lives that women lived fifty years ago were BAD FOR THE MEN—and that the sort of life an intelligent, reasonable woman wants to live today is the best thing that ever happened to men!

(Maybe that makes me a traitor to my sex, but I'm fairly good at dodging bricks.)

TURNING THE TABLES

When the world was young and the books were few and tales were simply told.

The children listened with willing ears to the babblings of the old.

Then father or mother could raise a ghost to frighten the kids to bed.

For seldom a child grew wise enough to doubt what his parents said. So they followed this method for years and years until into this line it grew.

"The bogey man will carry you off if you don't mind what you do."

If a boy talked back in those bygone days or fought for his little whim.

With threats of ogres and witches wild they frightened it out of him.

They'd pack him to bed with his nerves on edge alone in the dark to lie.

With the sweet assurance that if he cried a horrible death he'd die.

And he'd cover his head with the blankets thick, ashy from head to toe.

For the night was a horrible time to the young in that ignorant long ago.

But it's different now, for the ghosts are gone and the ogres are no more.

It's the old day who sit in fear of the terrible modern lore—

For the youngsters laugh at the fears we raise. If a cautioning word be spoke.

They say: "Oh, yeah! We have heard that line, but it's dead as a last month's joke!"

Father and mother are trembling now whenever the youngsters roam.

And they lie in their beds till 4 a. m. and shiver till they come home.

Now the boys talk back with a wise-crack smart and the daughter laughs at fears.

If we brought out a ghost to frighten them they'd tickle his ribs and ears.

By the ogres of dread our nerves are frayed for most of our time is spent.

Whenever they're out in the car alone with visions of accident.

Oh! the grown-ups frightened the children once, but it now appears as if the tables had turned and these modern kids are scaring their parents stiff.

World Held To Have Gained By Effort To Save Germany

American Opinion Is Largely In Favor Of Estimate That London Conference Produced Benefits In General Economic Situation

One of the chief benefits of the London conference on conditions in Germany, as recognized in American comments, is the example of a group of nations meeting to prevent disaster for a sister nation. There are differences of opinion as to future political and economic developments, but the purpose of the conference is widely commended.

"The London pact by seven mighty powers to aid and save a sister nation from financial ruin," according to the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL, "shows mankind the broad trail to a great new human order, points the people to peace and reason, to a great new civilization freighted and laden with good will, good order and intensified human happiness." Declaring that "the conference was well worth while," the CLEVELAND NEWS holds that "a step toward international economic co-operation on a scale never before contemplated, has been taken." The PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM thinks that "the public is treated to the most pacific appearing international picture seen for several years," and "if the balance of international finance is established sufficiently to assure the resumption of the normal flow of trade relations, the feat is of sufficient magnitude to contain plenty of glory for all participants."

"Germany is placed on level ground, and now only the disturbing elements of the communists to combat while working out her rehabilitation program," says the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "but the handling of the opposing factions should prove the least of the difficulties that government is now left to face." The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL is convinced that "if the moratorium and the proposed union which statesmen here act to achieve the results expected, Germany will soon be a large purchaser on the world market—a tonic the world needs." That paper concludes that "as an active trader, engaged in buying and selling and realizing a profit on her activities, Germany is a world asset, but under other circumstances she would be a serious liability."

The measures adopted were like those of physicians in charge of a person who is ill is the conviction of the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR and the NEW YORK SUN. The latter adds: "That they were able to agree on the general efficacy of the treatment already undertaken was something, perhaps it was more that nobody proposed a panacea. Rarely indeed does the applicant for relief obtain from such a consultative congress the directions and remedies he desires. Germany did not. It did, however, obtain confirmation of the extension of loans already made, proclamation of confidence in its ability to recover from its ills, and the recommendation that a committee of bankers representing the great institutions of the world should investigate the requirements of Germany."

"The Germans have been given a breathing spell," states the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION. They may not yet be out of their difficulties, but they have an opportunity to set their house in order before being compelled to meet the situation as it comes. And to foreign bankers which threatened actual default. And it also appears that, under stress of the emergency, steps have been taken toward that improvement of the relations between France and Germany which is of such vital importance to the stability of Europe."

The importance of the relief offered is emphasized by the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, the WORCESTER TELEGRAM and the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE. The OMAHA WORLD-HERALD describes the proceedings with the comment: "And so it is that recovery proceeds—one step at a time. Each crisis, in its turn, is met and surmounted. It is a long and hard and steep road, but it must follow, and it slowly emerges from the swamp into which it so foolishly plunged, and struggles to regain the heights. But it is following that road. For all the obstacles of prejudice and passion and stupidity, sanity and common sense continue to prevail."

Extension of credits "may swing the psychology in Germany from panic to confidence," in the judgment of the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL. The SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS, voicing the view that "restoration of Germany means the stabilization of conditions of business—and perhaps politics—in the world," adds: "The other nations will go the full limit, as governments and through private interests, to bring about economic peace and stability. Germany's confidence to her own people, and the confidence of the world in a normal Germany."

"The effect of a prompt agreement at the London Conference," as viewed by the PASADENA STAR-NEWS, "should be most salutary upon the United States as well as upon Europe. The psychological influence will be wholesome in this country and abroad. Germany's plight has been a frightening influence. With the world assured that Germany is to be helped over the financial steep, the strain is relieved, the suspense is ended. But far more significant and more important than any temporary economic, material advantages, is the victory for international good will, good fellowship and helpfulness."

Calling the conference a failure, the NEWARK EVENING NEWS asserts that "the economics of the world are just as badly muddled as

George Honeyball, one of the men who discovered the greatest goldfield in the world, has recently been found living as a pauper in a hamlet of the Transvaal province in South Africa.

About $6,000,000,000 worth of gold has been taken out of the gigantic Witwatersrand and deposits since 1886, when a company of prospectors of which Honeyball was one, stumbled on the spectacular field. ### ARE YOU A "QUOTER"?

One of the most bothersome individuals is the person who has read extensively for the purpose of being able to quote often from prominent authors at the same time asking questions about those same authors. Many great readers do so to get a general idea for cultural purposes and not with an idea of committing to memory, and always at tongue's end.

The verbatim repeater of writers has acquired very little of the wide scope of idea which an instructive author may present.

Certain persons merely learn a verse or two and an occasional sentence from as many writers as possible and think they show culture by always being ready with something of the sort to fit into the conversation.

Are you one of this sort? Then your reading cannot be as extensive and your knowledge will not be as general but rather limited in comparison with those really well read.

Those who wish to be truly informed read thoughtfully and much. It is not so important to recite the exact words of an outstanding sentence as it is to have a clear conception of it.

When you merely study words you miss the best in what you read.

Don't be a human parrot.

Federal Court Procedure Approved By Commission

Wickersham Commission Reports To Hoover That Federal Courts Are All Right

Although Jammed With Prohibition Cases, Court Functioning Fairly Fast

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Federal courts, although overburdened with prohibition cases, and those arising from the Dyer act dealing with stolen automobiles, are functioning fairly expeditiously, it was indicated to President Hoover Monday in an incomplete report from the Wickersham commission.

No definite conclusions were appended to the report, chairman Geo. W. Wickersham advising the president that an additional appropriation of $50,000 would be necessary to complete the survey. The Rockefeller Foundation, he asserted in the conveying letter, has set aside half that amount to enable the American law institute to finish the work, providing the other $25,000 is obtained from other sources.

Wet Cases Increase

So far as it proceeded, the commission undertook to ascertain the number and kinds of cases, taken before courts in 13 representative districts during 1928, 1929 and 1930 ending June 30, what manner of law violations were involved, what devices were resorted to either to expediate or delay trial and what dispositions were finally made.

Prohibition cases, it was found, increased from 69 per cent to the total in the first year to 81 per cent in the year 1929-30. Wickersham reported, however, "there is no comprehensive study available which furnishes a reliable answer" to the contention that court docket congestion arises from multiplicity of Volstead cases, or those growing from the Dyer act.

Absence of Delays

Tentatively, the commission asserted there was "evidence of a large uncontrolled discretion, exercised off the record, either by the United States Commission or the federal enforcement agencies, by which possible contested cases are eliminated or prosecuted under less serious charges."

Generally, however, it was stated, "there is a complete absence of procedural delays and difficulties which commonly are thought to be inherent in and peculiar to the system."

Only $1,785 Loss In City On Fires

Cement Company's Loss Reported At $750 From Damage To Bags, Cement

The total estimated loss caused by fires in the city district during July was $2,785, of which $1,550 was on buildings and $1,235 on contents, according to the monthly fire report of Fire Chief Lynn to Superintendent of Public Safety, Clayton H. Reeves, made public today.

Of the above loss sustained only the amount of $210 was not covered by insurance, the report states.

There was one call answered by the department outside the city during the middle of the month when fire leveled two garages and a barn on High street, Union township, where a loss of $1,000 resulted.

Deducting this amount from the total loss during the month leaves a loss of $1,785 in the city on buildings and contents. Of this amount $750 was claimed by the Lehigh Cement company when fire damaged bags and finished cement recently.

LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for fruits, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

In the past twenty years there have been numerous changes in every way in this district and one of the most interesting and outstanding changes has been in the form of government of the city. This change was from the old town council, common and select, the members of which served their city without pay, to the commission form of government with a mayor and four councilmen having all the legislative functions of the former type of city government and the members of council as well as the mayor receiving salaries. Under the old type of government, there was a representative or member of the select council from each ward and two representatives or two members of common council from each ward.

These men served without pay and naturally attempted to take the best care possible of the interests of their respective districts. They only served part time as naturally they had to follow their regular business or work in order to make a living. Then also the mayor, like the governor had the power of veto and he did not deem satisfactory unless his veto was overridden the greater majority of the members of both the common and select branches of council. He alone of the group was salaried. Under the present form of government, a man elected to council has the opportunity of proving that he is for the entire city, but not allowing his sectional prejudices influence him in his acts as a councilman and showing that he is interested in the entire city, regardless of the section he may come from. In the commission form of government, the only veto power that the mayor has is that of his vote as a member of council, which he may cast as he sees fit. In this he is on a par with all members of council.

The one advantage that he has over the other members of council is that he is officially designated as the head of the department of public affairs, the police department and receives a larger salary than the members of council while the other members of council must arrange among themselves, which of the respective departments of city government, they desire to head.

Tomorrow—Changes that have occurred in the police and fire departments of the city.

I feel so melon cauli, dear
Since you have been away.
The thyme has seemed so very long
I pine for you each day.
No sugar beats your sweetness.
Don't turnip your nose at me.
But take this eighteen carrot ring
And lettuce married be.

Vanderbilts In Reno Court For Divorce Today

Predict That Mrs. Mary Davidson Weir Vanderbilt Will Be Granted Decree

(International News Service)

RENO, Nev., Aug. 4.—Echoes of the "report" of the unloaded revolver with which Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., is said to have pursued Peter Arno, satiric artist, were to be heard today in Reno's divorce courts.

Vanderbilt's divorce complaint and the cross-complaint of Mrs. Mary Davidson Weir Vanderbilt were slated to be heard by Judge Benjamin F. Currier.

It was predicted that the Vanderbilts would be freed of their marital bonds ten minutes after their troubles are subjected to the scrutiny of the judge. The hearing was expected to start at 10 a. m.

Attorneys on both sides said they believed there would be no contest and that Mrs. Vanderbilt would be granted a decree on her cross-complaint.

New Group At Camp East Brook

This Is Last Scheduled Period At Y. W. C. A. Camp—High School Girls There

A crowd of business girls and girls of the high school age are at Camp East Brook, the Y. W. C. A. resort for girls this week and have plunged into the midst of a delightful program of sports, parties and outdoor events.

They are under the supervision of the same staff of advisors as has been at the camp all summer, with the exception of one staff member. The place of Miss Parker, swimming instructor, has been taken by Miss Irene Russell.

Tonight is stunt night and the girls have been thinking up novel ideas for the affair today. They are looking forward to the movie star party on Thursday night, also. At that time they will all make up like the various movie stars and a program will be presented by various groups. Horoscope reading will take place, followed by star gazing outside.

This is the final group scheduled to spend a period at Camp East Brook. By August 15, when this group leaves, the camping period at the popular Y. W. C. A. resort will be about completed for the season.

They were unrelated and strangers until their fathers met and the courtship began.

Athlete's Foot

Millions Have It

Starts Between Toes With Intense Itching and Burning

Nowadays you hear a lot about Athlete's Foot—Half of our adult population become infected at some time, according to a bulletin of the U. S. Public Health Service.

It's a bad disease to have—causes no end of itching misery and worry.

Look between your toes and under them to-night—are they cracked or blistered? Do they itch?

If you find any signs of this dread disease get a bottle of Emerald Oil at any drugstore at once—apply this powerfully soothing and penetrating oil liberally—not only between and under toes but to the entire foot—the itching ceases at once.

Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., and every live pharmacist dispenses Moore's Emerald Oil with the plain understanding that it will banish every symptom of Athlete's Foot in 2 weeks or money back—an 85 cent bottle lasts 2 weeks.

Special Missionary Program

Features Sunday Evening Service At Emanuel Baptist

Miss Cecilia Lewis will lead the pulpit of the Emmanuel Baptist church Sunday evening and her story of the missionary work being carried on in dark Africa held the congregation intensely interested for an hour.

She appeared in the native dress of the African woman and told of their lives and customs.

Deacon Benjamin Jones opened the service with the scripture reading and Griffith Thomas of the First Congregational church, led in prayer. Mrs. Rech and Mrs. T. Morris sang and the congregational singing was something worth hearing especially when Llewellyn Thomas of South Mercer street, began singing the grand old hymn "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah" and this ended in quite a revival spirit being manifested. All the people enjoyed Miss Lewis' talk. Miss Annie Jones was at the piano throughout the service.

Eisteddfod in Wales

The national Eisteddfod of Wales is held this week at the city of Bangor, North Wales, and it is expected that more than twenty thousand people will attend. Choirs from South Wales will travel north to compete for the chief prize and there will be many Welsh from America in attendance, among them will be Rev. Rees T. THE PARENT PROBLEM

Grandma's Sometimes A Liability

Relatives In Home May Cause Conflicts Between Parents

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Yesterday we considered situations in which aunts and uncles may prove liabilities to our children. Now let us turn to the grandparents. Be it said first, of course, that many a grandparent has been a blessing to the grandchildren, even when living in their home. But for grandmothers' influence some of the greatest men and women of the world had never been heard of. But grandparents are sometimes liabilities.

Grandfather errs most often by pampering the children. Because he, as a rule, has not had experience in the routine matter of rearing children, he is less likely than grandmother to be meddlesome concerning how to feed them, clothe them and make them mind.

She who is the mother's mother is more prone to err than the father's mother. The former, following old habits, tends to go on bossing the mother as she did of yore, telling her in minute details what to do and what not to do. Now, the mother in frequent conferences with the father may have decided on a program with the children markedly different from the mother, with good relationships toward her mother, tends to show her reasonable deference. Nevertheless, if the mother is of strong will and character she goes her way.

The grandmother, not to admit defeat, criticizes the mother before her children, even resorting to small underhand things, more or less unconscious of their significance. If the mother had in her childhood been pretty docile toward her mother, greatly depending upon her for guidance and direction, she may have difficulty now to stand her ground. She probably will make concessions, resulting in remorse to her and emotional conflicts.

If she makes large concessions, the father on observing them will be vexed, and inevitable conflicts will arise between the parents. The grandmother will come to the defense of her daughter, causing greater annoyance to the father. He, in compensation, will lean more heavily on his standards than she on hers. Hence grows up a triangle with the mother and grandmother against the father. Inevitably the children are dragged into the conflict. They, indeed, are most frequently the immediate source of controversy. The mother is always right, because she agrees with grandmother; the father always wrong, because he doesn't. With the affections of the children torn between the parents, how hard it will be for them to adjust themselves to the conflicting parties.

Are we not pretty hard on grandmother? Did she not make countless sacrifices for her own children? Is she not now ready to minister to every member of her daughter's home? Would she not, were the father or the mother or any of the children to grow ill, be right by their side to care for them? She willingly would lay down her life for any of them. Of course, Furthermore she longs to see her grandchildren grow up well and happy.

Hundred Boys Leave Monday For Three-Week Camping Period

GROVE CITY, Aug. 4.—Camp Fithian on Slippery Rock creek, built as a permanent location for local Boy Scouts, was occupied today by 100 boys who will camp for three weeks under the leadership of Scout Commissioner R. M. Stewart.

A program of instruction for all ages of scouts and scoutmasters will be presented during the camp period. Three Grove City churches and the American Legion presented the camp with cabins for the housing of the boys.

Grove City has six troops of scouts totaling 180 boys.

LEAVE FOR CANADA

For 30 years Camp Konecata on Lake Choichehiching in Ontario, Canada, has been the location of a two week camp of a party of Grove City business men.

The Grove City folks left today for their camp in a party including Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Allen and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Christy and family and Mrs. Findley Mason. Other campers from western Pennsylvania towns will total the camping party at 25.

The camp is ideally located and situated on the banks of what is said to be one of the best productive lakes for fish in Canada.

Drive On Prohibition In United States Is Fizzle Says National W. C. T. U.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Both Republican and Democratic parties will be "strongly dry" in 1932, if national political leaders "heed the results of the wet drive in 41 state legislatures that met this year," the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union announced today.

The dry organization boasted that the campaign to "smash prohibition state by state is a fizzle." It declared every movement to repeal state prohibition laws had ended in failure and chided the wets for confining their efforts to either petitioning congress for repeal or passing "non-mandatory referenda" which have no effect on existing law.

Strongly Dry

"If national political leaders heed the results of the wet drive in the 41 state legislatures that met this year, both the Republican and Democratic parties will be strongly dry in 1932," the Union announced. "The campaign to smash prohibition state by state is a fizzle. Nothing was repealed or modified—not even a medicinal liquor law."

"The fate of the wet drive this year convinced the W. C. T. U. that political misfortune lurks in repeal or modification. Nearly 7,000 state legislators, fresh from the people, met this year; considered 115 wet measures, and adjourned without modifying or repealing one line of any prohibition law."

The dry organization said the legislatures have adopted only 11 wet measures, all confined to six states. These measures, it reported, merely called for referenda on prohibition or asked congress to do something about repeal, but did not touch local enforcement acts. Five of the 11 were adopted in New York State, the others in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Wet Program Failed

"Wet measures in these states do not encourage national candidates to run on wet planks," the Union added, "especially when it is realized that the wet leaders in wet Connecticut and wet Rhode Island were forced to abandon the adoption of non-mandatory resolutions. The New Jersey wet legislature program failed completely.

"It appears to the W. C. T. U. that the drive against prohibition has turned into a device for staging non-mandatory smoke screen referenda under which small time politicians can run for office and avoid discussing their real qualification."

The drys then listed the defeat of prohibition repeal bills in 16 states, including California, Connecticut, Colorado, Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah and Vermont. In Illinois, it reported, a repeal bill passed the state legislature but was vetoed by the governor and abandoned.

ADMIT EMBEZZLEMENT OF HOSPITAL FUNDS TO PLAY THE RACES

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Speculation on the turf exchange was assigned by Mrs. Goldie Prettyman, 24, of Wheeling Island as the reason she has nothing left of nearly $7,000 she confesses she embezzled from the North Wheeling hospital funds. Prosecuting Attorney A. C. Schiffer said today, Mrs. Prettyman was arrested yesterday on a warrant formally charging her with embezzlement of $5,017, but officials said the amount actually missing is much higher.

Prepare School At St. Joseph's For Next Term

Everything Is Being Placed In First Class Order For Resumption Next Month

Progress is being made in the preparation of the school rooms of St. Joseph's parochial school for the reopening of the school for the coming term, which will start in September shortly after Labor Day. The rooms are being painted and brightened up in general and will be in fine shape when the school reopens. The painting of the entire interior of the convent of the parish in anticipation of the return of the sisters, who are in charge of the school of the parish, has been completed. Indications are that the school will enjoy a very successful term.

Beaver Valley Presbytery
Young Folks Join In Frolic At Edgewood Monday Evening

A group of enthusiastic young people of the United Presbyterian churches of the Beaver Valley Presbytery assembled at Edgewood, on the New Brighton-Edgewood City road Monday evening for a joint outing.

There were delegations from the four United Presbyterian churches of this city as well as from Allquippa, Ambridge, Conway, Rochester, Beaver, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Edgewood City and the rural districts around these places.

At 6:30 the group sat down to tables arranged for each society and amidst singing and jollity a delicious menu was served.

Concluding dinner a number of contests and races were indulged in, with the main feature a baseball game between the upper and lower valley organizations. The upper valley team won by a score of 3-2.

Those who had so carefully arranged for the event were Rudolph Hoffman of New Brighton, chairman; G. A. P. Bowman, Beaver, secretary of the young people's work in Beaver valley; Richard Johns of New New Castle, leader of the music. Alex Hanna acted as umpire in the baseball game.

Capture Suspect In Murder Case

Philadelphia Police Arrest Negro As Washington Crime Suspect

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—Leonard Layton, alias Lovette, a negro known to Washington, D. C., police as "Lightning Trigger," was captured here today as a suspect in the murder of a taxi driver at Washington.

Layton is alleged to have been the leader of a gang of bandits participating in at least three holdups in the national capital. During one of these holdups a taxi driver was killed and three accomplices of Layton named him as the "trigger man". The negro was found asleep in a house on Bainbridge street in south Philadelphia.

POISON FROM BITE FATAL TO FARMER

LORETTA, Pa., Aug. 4.—Edward T. Parrish, 56-year-old farmer, died today, the result of blood poisoning, believed caused by the bite of a snake or insect. Parrish felt the sting of an insect or reptile while loading hay last week and when his condition became critical he was removed to a Johnstown hospital, where he died.

SALARIES REDUCED But Money Ahead

In conversation a day or so ago a gentleman remarked that he has no money in any bank, but that if he had followed his "intention" a year ago he would now have a nice savings account.

He said he had paid off monthly the mortgage on his home, then intended to continue his payments in a savings account.

But he did not HAVE to pay on his mortgage and so he let his money go for other things.

He said that if his salary had been "cut" $5.00 or $10.00 per month he would yet have had

Enough to eat

Enough to wear

Enough enjoyment, and that what he should have done was to "cut" his own salary into a savings account and have an emergency fund.

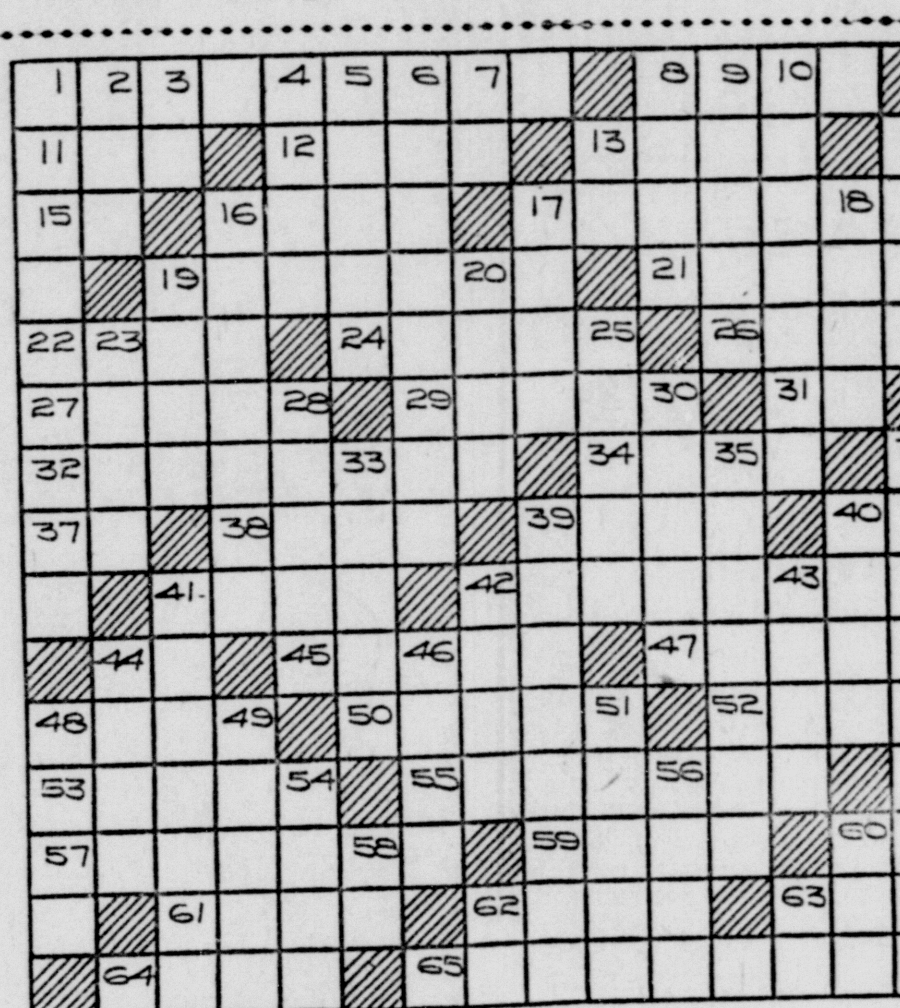

"As it is now with sickness and no work, I wish I had saved as I planned."

From the above experience we suggest to everyone to begin saving now if he has not already done so, and that on all savings we pay 5% interest.

Mulleintowners Prepare For Reunion On Tuesday

The second annual reunion of the Mulleintown school will be held at Lakewood park, Tuesday, August 11, and indications point to an exceptionally good time when the old timers get together. In order to make the reunion more interesting, invitations have been extended to all former pupils of the school up to and including 1910.

A meeting on the day of the reunion will be held in the morning at the West Side school before the trip to Lakewood. This has been designated as a gathering point so that strangers may not get confused. For those who do not have cars, transportation will be arranged for.

President J. Herb McVenny, anticipating a good sized crowd at the affair has appointed a number of committees to arrange for the amusement of those who attend. A warm reception will be given all out of towners, while a number of sports events will be arranged for. At noon there will be a basket picnic, all who attend will dine together as one big family. Coffee will be served by the committee.

Fines And Costs For Trio Violating State Fish Law Reach Total Sum Of $700

What is declared by a state fish warden to be the most important case that has been handled by the Pennsylvania Department of Fisheries for the past few years was untangled in the New Castle district during the past few days with the arrest of three men who pleaded guilty to poisoning fish in local streams with chlorinated lime.

The three men are Louis Fusco, Pollock avenue, Ernest Massi and Louis DeCapro of East Long avenue. The trio was fined a total of $700 for the depredations committed. Massi went to county jail in default of his portion of the fine.

The case was handled by State Fish Warden J. H. Simmons of Rochester, Pa., who received a wire from the state capital to hurry to New Castle after the local fish and game protector, Frank L. Coen, arrested the three men while they were coming from the vicinity of Big Run creek last week.

The arrest solved a mystery which the state authorities had been trying to solve for a long time, the officials report. Telling about the arrests and subsequent fining of the defendants Simmons praised his helpers.

"I think that District Game Protector Coen and Constable Tom O'Brien did good work on this case," Simmons said. "This was one of the most important arrests of the department in years because it went a long way to determine what had killed fish in Lawrence and Mercer counties. The State Department of Fisheries had received many complaints of dead fish in the past, but we were unable to make an analysis of the water in time to determine what had been used to kill the fish. These men were using chlorinated lime, a chemical that dissolves quickly and clears away thus traces of its presence in the water would disappear before we could analyze the streams."

According to Simmons the three who were arrested would catch the dead fish in a handmade willow trap. The chemical would leave the fish after they had been washed. When captured the men had 200 dead fish, according to Coen. On Saturday Coen happened to be in the vicinity of Big Run which courses through the A. W. Thompson farm, Shenango township. This stream showed hundreds of dead fish. Coen said 346 fish were found dead.

ASLEEP AT WHEEL, HURLED OVER BANK

FRANKLIN, Pa., Aug. 4.—The sight of an automobile rolling over and over on the steep grade of the Pittsburgh road, near the city limits of Franklin, startled early motorists, who, arriving at the scene, found George Arnold, 42, of Chicago, emerging from the wreckage of a new automobile.

"Somebody clipped me," Arnold exclaimed, then lost consciousness. Later, at Franklin hospital, where he was treated for scalp wounds and back injuries, he expressed belief that he had fallen asleep. He was returning to Chicago from a visit in New York state. He could recall little of the accident. A brother arrived from Cleveland and took Arnold to his home.

PICNIC FUN ENDS IN DIVORCE COURT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 4.—William M. Hagedorn's idea of a lot of fun at a picnic was dropping a frog down his sister-in-law's back, and when his wife remonstrated he called her this and that, she testified, asking Judge Frank P. Patterson for a divorce yesterday. Judge Patterson granted her the decree.

Present Explanation Of Weekly Pass Project

Weekly street car riding pass, which city council has asked the New Castle Electric Street Railway Company to introduce here, for the benefit of the people of the city, is a method of selling and buying transportation which was introduced in several American cities some years ago by Walter Jackson, an electric railway expert, and which is now used in many cities in all parts of the country. Pittsburgh and Youngstown are among the cities using the pass.

The weekly pass is sold at a flat price. In Youngstown this is $1.25. It entitles the holder to as many rides on the city street cars as he or she may choose to take within the week for which the pass is issued.

The passes go on sale on the cars and at ticket offices several days in advance of the week for which they are to be used. The week starts at midnight Saturday and continues till midnight the following Saturday, giving use of the pass for the full seven days of the calendar week. All passes expire simultaneously at the end of the week, that is at midnight Saturday.

The big feature of the weekly pass is that there is absolutely no limit to the number of rides that may be taken within the specified week.

Furthermore the pass is transferable. That is it is good for the fare of the person presenting it, and not merely of the original purchaser, but, of course, it is good for only one person at a time. Thus the man of the family may purchase the pass for his own use in going to and from work, but when he is not using it, it is good for any other member of the family, or for a friend, if he choose to lend it to him.

In addition to the advantage of giving more rides per dollar than any other form of ticket that has ever been devised, the weekly pass does away with the annoyance of change-making, the necessity of asking for transfers and the like. One transaction a week is all that is necessary. Then as subsequent rides are taken all the pass-holder has to do is to show the pass to the car operator. He is free to ride at all times of the day or night, anywhere in the city, merely by showing the pass.

Three Are Slain In Chicago Battle

Riot Occurs In "Black Belt"—
City Plans To Extend
Charity Program

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Roused to action by the "Black Belt" riot in which three were slain, and spurred by the number of unemployed who will be in distress this winter, city officials took steps yesterday to extend charity to needy families facing eviction from their homes.

Seeking to prevent the eviction by court order of a woman from her south side home, a mob of 3,000 negroes, many of them said to be communists, late yesterday battled squads of police that were rushed to the scene of the disturbance.

In addition to the three killed in the riot, all negroes, others, including several police, were injured. Authorities said the rioters were incited by communist leaders. Following the clash a communist protest meeting was held in which thousands took part.

When city officials met in a conference to lay plans to prevent a repetition of the disturbance, they were called by telephone to Mayor Anton J. Cermak, who was in Little Current, Ont. The mayor ordered that no more families be evicted without notification being given him and organized charity. He said there is a special fund which may be tapped for aiding impoverished families.

John O'Neal, 45, was the only slain negro who was identified. Jno. McFadden, 40, white and Fred Graham, 42, negro policeman, were severely lacerated by knives. The skull of policeman Martin Ernest was fractured.

Twenty-one men were taken into custody during the quelling of the riot. Some of them were suspected by prosecutors of being militant communists.

Holdup Victims Identify Suspects

Fourth Arrest Ends Roundup
Of Bandits In Butler
District

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 4.—With the arrest and holding in Allegheny county jail of a fourth suspect, state police here said today, they had rounded up the last member of a bandit gang which for months has terrorized motorists on Allegheny Valley roads. Nabbed at the end of an investigation by Sergeant Martin J. Crowley, of Troop D, the alleged stickup man is Alexander Nucci, of Rural Ridge.

Nucci and Paul Guchanan, 26, Butler; Robert Landmore, 20, Jefferson Center; and Adrian Bailey, 23, Oneida, arrested previously, have been identified by holdup victims, state police claim. The gang is said to be implicated in two robberies in Russellton, two near Dorseyville, one in Greensburg, one in Tarentum and one on the Oneida Dam road. Other holdups may be laid to the four, Sergeant Crowley intimated.

H. W. Miller Is In Near Accident Near Ashtabula, O.

Car Of Local Railroad Telegrapher Skids Off Highway And Through Fence

H. W. Miller, local railroad man, and his wife had an experience Saturday while enroute to their home in Ashtabula, O. that may have easily been much more serious than it was.

Mr. Miller was driving at a fair rate of speed along the highway at a point between Jefferson and Ashtabula when the car skidded on the wet pavement, careened over a ditch, up a ten foot embankment and through a fence. The car barely missed several trees, turned back through the fence and onto the highway again. None in the car was injured and the automobile itself was not scratched.

Mr. Miller stays at the Liberty hotel throughout the week and returns to Ashtabula each week-end.

Sam Woods Ends Furlough Here

Sam Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Woods of Sunnyside, leaves this evening for Elmira, N. Y., where he will spend three days at the glider meet there, after which he will proceed on to Brooklyn, N. Y.

Young Woods has been spending a furlough at the home of his parents. He is a member of the dental corps at the Brooklyn Naval hospital.

The trip to Elmira and to Brooklyn is being made on motorcycle.

The King and Queen of Siam recently were entertained at luncheon at the almost completed New Waldorf, New York City, the royal party inspecting the building after the luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Reid accompanied the party which was composed of King Prajadhipok, Queen Rambairani, their adopted son, Prince Chirasakti, and his friend, Mr. Ajjah; Major Prasabari, aide to the king; Mr. Karawik, and other members of the royal suite who will soon sail for Siam.

As Graf Left for Arctic

Just before she rose from the Tempelhof Airport, at Berlin, on her way to the Arctic, the giant Graf Zeppelin is pictured above being held down by the small army that comprised her landing crew. As usual a big crowd was on hand to wave a bon voyage to Germany's pride and the sixteen scientists who were aboard to collect data in the Northland. The two Americans among the passengers were Lincoln Ellsworth, of Hudson, Ohio, Arctic explorer, representing the American Geographical Society, and Edward H. Smith, of the U. S. Coast Guard Service, Washington.

Worn 'Em 73 Years

A record of old and faithful service which would make any manufacturer turn green with envy is pictured here on the 93-year-old feet of Jacob Miller, aged resident of Pleasant Hill, Mo. It's the boots, you know, that we're talking about. Mr. Miller bought them at Mifflinsburg, Pa., in 1858 and has worn them for 73 years. They still have the original heels and soles.

To Make Philippines Survey

Much speculation is rife in the national capital as to the significance of the trip that Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley is making to the Philippine Islands. During the last few months the War Department head has had many conferences with Manuel Quezon, leader of the Philippine Senate, who has been in this country advocating independence for the islands, and it is believed that Hurley's trip will have an important bearing on the subject, as he will study the islands' status on behalf of President Hoover. Photo shows Senator Quezon (right) with Hurley when the latter presented him at the White House.

Slew Her Babies—'Justifiably'?

Wing to Sickbed

Still Playing King

Although no longer entitled to the designation "His Majesty," former King Alfonso, of Spain, still receives the plaudits of those whose blood is not so blue in a manner befitting a king. Alfonso is pictured above with Queen Victoria for the first time since they fled from Madrid at the outbreak of the revolution. They are shown being greeted by loyal friends when they appeared at the recent tennis matches at Fontainebleau, France.

Brightest Boys Meet President

Winners of the National Intelligence Test sponsored by the Central Press Association and affiliated newspapers were welcomed at the White House by President Hoover, prior to their departure for a six weeks' tour of Italy awarded them for their brilliance. They sailed from New York on the S. S. Vulcania. Left to right are: Frank Hallett, Jr., of Akron, O.; David Highlander, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Woodfin Keesee, of Helena, Ark.; President Hoover; Edward Prichard, Jr., of Paris, Kentucky; Benedict Goldman, of Pawtucket, R. I.; and Karl Snyder, of Mellett, S. D. Pays to be bright—Huh?

REPORT SCORES STATE PRISON

Missouri state penitentiary, at Jefferson City, above, is one of the many prisons scored in the Wickersham committee's penal report, for their inhumane treatment of inmates. The report points out that, following strict disciplinary methods instituted at Jefferson City, five men committed suicide, four were killed by other prisoners and 78 escaped. Troopers seen on guard after riot.

Likes 'Em Big

What little Joey Thebault, six-year-old wonder of the golf links at Pawtucket, R. I., lacks in stature and weight he makes up with his "tiny" caddy, George W. Graham, who carries around 300 pounds besides Joey's clubs. Joey, who promises to be a second Bobby Jones, some say, is entered in the Junior Tournament at the Agawam Club, Providence, R. I. He's shown with "Tiny."

Last Word in U.S.—Built Ships

The new S. S. President Hoover of the Dollar Line, heralded as the last word in American ship construction, is shown proudly sailing up New York bay to her pier for the first visit to Gotham after being commissioned. The ship sails on her maiden trip 'round the world Aug. 6. Captain Fred Anderson (insert), veteran skipper, is in command of this newest $8,000,000 floating palace of the American Merchant Marine. The President Hoover is the largest American-built liner and will accommodate 1,260 passengers.

Watery Comfort

The newest means of propulsion through the water in comfort is this marine neckband contraption invented by Herr Hubold, of Berlin, shown demonstrating its possibilities. The small boat-shaped affair is made of aluminum, and is fitted with two handles which are turned simultaneously, giving impetus to a pair of tiny propellers on the under side of the device.

Mother Radios Pride in Son

A mother's pride in her heroic son was broadcast across the broad Atlantic and to America when Mrs. Mary L. Polando, of Lynn, Mass., mother of John Polando, who accompanied Russell Beardman on their record-breaking, long-distance, non-stop flight from New York to Istanbul, Turkey, visited the N. B. C. station in Boston. Mayor James M. Curry, of Boston, is shown with Mrs. Polando as she dispatched her greetings to John in faraway Turkey.

When $50,000 Went Up in Smoke

Seven thousand gallons of oil, valued at $50,000, were destroyed in this raging fire at Warren, Pa., when four huge tanks of the United Crude Oil Refinery went up in flames and smoke. The billowing clouds of smoke were visible for 30 miles. Emergency firemen from neighboring oil plants aided the Warren fire-fighters in battling the disastrous blaze. Photo was made at height of conflagration.

If You're Health Victim; Snap Out Of It; Urges State Health Secretary

"There is a large class of persons who have definitely become victims of the health urge which these days is so seductively and generally played up in the advertisements. It is not too much to say that one is persistently implored by means of the printed and illustrated page to buy anything from beds to cigarettes, on the basis of health. And these appeals do not include hundreds of concoctions which are offered to the public solely to cure them of real and imaginary ills. While undoubtedly this type of sales attack has been and continues to be successful, there is another side to the matter which needs some consideration," said Doctor Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, today.

"For example, a woman of more than average intelligence when starting on even an over-night trip takes along enough pills and fluids of various types and kinds almost to supply a clinic. Being an ardent reader of health ads and literature she is prepared against the many and direful things that are likely to overtake her ranging from bad breath to pneumonia. Moreover, she eats for health, sleeps for health, breathes for health, exercises for health, buys for health, reads health, talks health—and in the practice of her obsession apparently fails to live for the joy of it. It is all health.

"While doubtless she represents an extreme instance, she nevertheless somewhat typifies an ever increasing number of people who are becoming unduly health conscious. Bombarded on all sides to do this and that for health's sake, the subject in their minds unfortunately takes on an importance entirely unjustified by the facts. Such an attitude fails to take into account that in the last analysis it is not the purchase of articles that develops or maintains health.

"After all, it must be appreciated that reasonable health is the normal state of the human being. Therefore, that particular brand of foods, furniture, and all the rest of it, play an exceedingly minor part, if indeed any, in the process.

"To become a mild hypochondriac because health is being forever hurled at one is perhaps a line of least resistance, but it is not sensible.

"Speaking generally, a great number of people would be much happier if they would eliminate health as a daily mental diet, and in its stead, merely live sensible day by day. Sufficient food, but not too much, adequate exercise and sleep, elimination of devitalizing habits, proper amounts of work and play, the semi-annual trip to the dentist and the annual physical check-up will splendidly meet the health requirements of the average person. To make one's self ill, or half so, by forever talking, thinking and acting health is the unhealthiest kind of a policy. If you are a 'health victim,' snap out of it!"

Doctor Gives Typical Menu For Children

Dr. Clendening Lists Correct Foods For Youngsters

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

After the third month the baby begins to get a mixed diet, which gradually becomes more varied until at the end of the first year, besides milk, it should be eating cereals, vegetables, fruit juices, toast and butter, eggs, meat juices and green vegetables.

From one to two years there should be three or four feedings in the 24 hours, and by the second year only three meals.

Milk remains the staple article of diet, at least a quart in 24 hours. Cereal—farina, cream of wheat and oatmeal—well cooked, and at first strained. Vegetables, such as spinach, peas, carrots, artichoke hearts and string beans—well cooked and strained through a sieve. Scraped meat should be started at the age of 15 months. Eggs, soft boiled, poached or coddled, come at about the same time, although the yolk can be given much earlier. Fruits in the form of orange juice, prune juice and tomato juice, are necessary parts of the diet.

A typical menu for a three-year-old child is as follows:

Breakfast—Orange. Farina with milk. Bread and butter. Glass of milk.

Dinner—Cream of tomato soup. Coddled eggs. Bread and butter. Cup of milk. Gelatine.

Supper—String beans. Boiled hominy and milk. Whole wheat bread and butter. Cup of milk. Stewed fruit.

A typical day's menu for a four-year-old is as follows:

Breakfast—Apple sauce. A soft-boiled egg. Toast and butter. Glass of milk.

Dinner—Chicken fricassee. Mashed potatoes. Asparagus tips. Bread and butter. Ice cream. Glass of milk.

Supper—Baked macaroni with tomato. Toast and butter. Glass of milk. Fresh sliced fruit.

A typical menu for a five-year-old is as follows:

Breakfast—Stewed prunes. Oatmeal. Milk. Toast and butter. Cocoa.

Dinner—Broiled lamb chop. Baked potato. Spinach. Bread and butter. Bread pudding and jelly. Glass of milk.

Supper—Scrambled egg with milk. Toast and butter. Squash. Glass of milk. Baked apple.

A typical day's menu for a six-year-old is as follows:

Breakfast—Baked apple. Toasted cornflakes. Milk. Toast and butter. Cocoa.

Dinner—Roast beef. Roast potato. Carrots. Bread and butter. Glass of milk. Floating island.

Supper—Oyster stew with crackers and butter. Glass of milk. Fresh sliced fruit. Cookie.

ALLSTATE'S 12 Points of Leadership

Proved in Thorough Laboratory* Tests

COMPARE These 12 Quality Points

The Tire Industry's Largest Independent Testing Laboratory* Finds These Facts:

	Size 29x4.40 = 4.40-21	ALLSTATE Tire	A Nationally Advertised First Line Tire
1. 20.35% LOWER PRICE		$4.98	$7.05
2. More Volume of Material	385 Cu. In.	374 Cu. In.
3. More Weight	16.625 Lbs.	15.875 Lbs.
4. More Width	4.544 In.	4.34 In.
5. More Thickness of Tread	.348 In.	.343 In.

9. Better Breaker—Under Tread	Double Woven	2 Single
10. 25% More Tread Strength	3950 Lbs.	3160 Lbs.
11. Longer Tread Wear	121% More
12. Number of Plies	4 Plies	4 Plies

**A Ply is one of a number of layers of rubberized cotton fabric—either cord or square woven—extending from bead to bead and forming the body of the tire. *Definition of the National Better Business Bureau.

Any fabric merely under the tread of a tire is a breaker strip and not a ply.

Here is the report of the leading authority on how to compare tire values. And more!—it is the report of a man who has no tires to sell. But he is the industry's most famous authority, and he has the largest independent tire-testing laboratory in America, completely and accurately equipped.

The chart at the left shows what he found out about ALLSTATE. Read it! See for yourself what an impartial expert says about the way ALLSTATE compares with a typical, nationally-advertised tire. See the facts! Compare them in 12 ways, as all tire authorities compare them.

A glance at the table below will show you ALLSTATE'S astonishing value. America's foremost tire engineers designed ALLSTATE tires especially for Sears, Roebuck and Co. The world's most successful tire manufacturer makes them. Our own stores bring them to you. One low cost, one modest profit.

MY NEW YORK

BY JAMES ASWELL

Central Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—I wonder how many New Yorkers have ever really seen the celebrated skyline—which, for visitors from abroad, is frequently one of the first things to attract American eyes of thought, dress, art and morals. Englishmen have been known to indict this country in no uncertain terms, after a glimpse of lower Manhattan from the deck of an incoming steamer and a few days' sojourn at a hotel. Native New Yorkers are not, as a rule much interested in the physical topography of their town; it is a fact to be taken supremely for granted.

A few weeks ago I took the steamer trip from Battery Park to Bear Mountain, up the Hudson. As the crowded boat edged slowly out from the wharf, I assumed there would be a rush to the rail, because the view from the middle of the harbor is one of the most impressive in the world. But was the deck lined with Manhattanites looking fondly at their dazzling, steel-and-stone-brocaded heat?

It was not. An orchestra was thumping in the social hall and that was where the majority of excursionists had betaken themselves. A few more had settled down to read. At the rail were half a dozen out-towners.

This is undoubtedly the small-town influence. For few residents of Greater New York think of themselves under that classification, which nevertheless went the way of all cover-charges.

The donkey on the Payne Whitney estate at Manhasset, Long Island, brays so punctually at 5 a. m. and 5 p. m. that neighbors set their clocks by the claxon call.

Where do the gentlemen wearing bright green double-breasted suits with pearl buttons, and the ladies clad in flowing evening gowns, pajama style, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon go when they leave the environs of Broadway and 45th St.? . . . For the Old Home Week idea was one of the many the citizenry of Saintes picked up from the Americans and they intend to celebrate it starting August 9.

"Penthesiles," a Greek play by Alfred Mortier, is to be presented in what remains of the Roman arena, constructed by Caesar's soldiers, and there will be reunions, concerts, parades—and: shh!—lots of things that American doughboys seemed to like in 1918 that they cannot get now in the homeland.

May Abandon Plan
Of Conference On Coal Industry Ills

Coal Operators Fail To Become Enthusiased With Plan Suggested By Hoover

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Decided ennu of coal operators toward a joint conference with miners, as a means of ironing out the economic difficulties of the industry, may force the Hoover administration to abandon the effort to bring the two factions together, it was learned today.

Questionnaires were sent to about 125 operators and responses indicated that only a minority was favorable to the joint conference. A majority of those to whom inquiries were sent have responded. The general feeling existed that nothing could be accomplished.

The questionnaires were dispatched by the Commerce and Labor departments. Unless some new emergency arises in the industry which might lead President Hoover to bring pressure on the operators it appeared that it might be necessary to drop the plan.

Sometime ago a group of operators met in Washington on the invitation of Secretary of Commerce Lamont after John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America asked President Hoover to bring about such a meeting. At that time the operators felt that a joint conference would bring no results and held that the coal industry was in no worse condition than many other industries of the country. Another attempt was made to get the miners and operators together when Lewis expressed the belief that the first group was not representative.

The coal situation is not aggravated by the strikes in West Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Illinois and some other states, it was pointed out. Consumption of coal has been curtailed greatly by the business depression with the reduction in activity of iron and steel, automobile, coal by-products and electric power industries.

For the first half of 1931 lake shipments of coal were 36.7 per cent below those of the January-June period of 1930 while movements from tidewater ports dropped over 11 per cent. Prices have fallen also. Bureau of Mine figures showed production for the year through July 25 to have been 213,418,000 tons, compared with 257,561,000 tons for the same period last year. Stocks, however, were lower than at any time since the 1922 strike.

Hope for improvement of the coal industry lies in the improvement of other industries. No coal shortage danger appears at present.

Self Charging System At Public Library And Branches In Effect One Week Now

The new charging system in use for nearly a week at the public library is being used by most borrowers with surprising ease and quickness, and with a remarkable willingness to cooperate. There are few objections and the only borrowers who are not able to charge their books are the very small children who do not write easily and must therefore be helped.

It is necessary under the present charging system for the borrower to have his card, as no books can be issued without the card. A few persons have been disappointed when they forgot to bring their cards. Although the library keeps a file of borrowers cards, when they are not in use it is preferable for the borrower to keep his own card which can be carried in a purse or bill fold. If necessary, the bottom of the card can be trimmed to fit the bill fold.

Judge Niles Of York Withdraws

Chairman John R. Collins, Of Democratic State Committee Makes Statement

JUDGE DREW IS SEVERELY SCORED

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Aug. 4.—Counter-attack of an "attempt of Judge James B. Drew, Pinchot appointee to the supreme court, to raid the Democratic primaries" today was given as the cause of withdrawal of Judge Henry P. Niles, York, as a Democratic candidate for the state supreme court bench in a statement from Chairman John R. Collins of the Democratic committee.

Judge Niles withdrew his nomination late yesterday, last day for withdrawals from the campaign. His action leaves Charles P. Uhl, Jr., of Somerset county the only Democratic entry in the field for the high court.

Collins' statement charged Judge Drew with attempting to violate as far as he possibly can the constitutional intention of minority representation of the supreme bench by grabbing the Democratic nomination in addition to the Republican nomination.

"For the first time in Pennsylvania politics," Collins said, "a state-wide candidate of the majority party has attempted to muzzle the opposition by seizing both nominations."

As a result of withdrawal of Judge Niles and Judge Albert D. McDade of Delaware county, Judge Drew will be opposed by Uhl in the Democratic primary and by Graham C. Woodward of Philadelphia in the Republican primary.

Collins' statement charged Judge Drew with attempting to violate as far as he possibly can the constitutional intention of minority representation of the supreme bench by grabbing the Democratic nomination in addition to the Republican nomination.

Shortly before midnight last night, Lieutenant of Police Peter Hillers and Officers Hanna and Dukes raided the place of Walter Shelton and wife, colored, 413 1/2 South Mill street, on finding a drinking party in progress, arresting Shelton as the keeper of a disorderly house, his wife as an inmate and the four white visitors in the place. Shelton put up a forfeit of $25 and his wife and the four visitors were released on forfeits of $10 each. None appeared for a hearing this morning.

Officer Showalter reported that there was a drinking party in progress at the residence of Anna Todd, 312 Glass street, as he was making his rounds last night and he was joined by Lieutenant Hillers and Officers Dukes and Lockard. On entering the place they arrested Anna Todd as the keeper of the place, two girls and eight men as inmates and visitors. Forty-nine bottles of beer were confiscated. The Todd woman was released on a $25 forfeit and the others on ten dollars forfeits. They failed to appear for a hearing this morning.

Pymatuning Dam Engineer Will Speak On Project

Ferris To Tell Rotarians Of Pymatuning Project At Monday Meeting

New Castle Rotarians are promised an address of more than ordinary interest next Monday when Engineer Ferris, who is in charge of the Pymatuning Dam will speak at the meeting of the club.

For several years Mr. Ferris has been in charge of the Pymatuning district and in that time has become thoroughly familiar with the swamp, the dam site, and the detail of the new dam which will be started in a short time.

His address will deal with the new dam, its size, its importance, and some of the interesting figures and detail connected with it. Because of the importance of the dam to this district it is expected that the club membership will be out in full.

Frustrate Plan To Wreck Mine Tipple

Police Discover Case Of Dynamite Secreted In Woods Near West Virginia Mine

(International News Service) WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 4.—A carefully laid plot to blow up the tipple of No. 3 mine of the Valley Camp Coal company at Triadelphia, near here, was frustrated today when police discovered a case of dynamite secreted in a wooded hillside near the mine.

The plot was believed to have resulted from an announcement by the mine operators that the mine had been closed and that operations would be suspended indefinitely. Employed miners were transferred to the No. 1 mine at Elm Grove, not far from where the dynamite was discovered. Four of the miners were slightly hurt when a crowd of mine pickets showered eight taxis hauling the miners with a heavy fire of stones and sticks.

Two Women Jailed For Mine Trouble

Unable To Pay Fines, Two Women Are Given Thirty Days In Jail

(International News Service) CHARLOTTE, Pa., Aug. 4.—Agnes Sneed, of Pittsburgh, and Bertha Burns, of Charleroi, who attempted to foment trouble among mine pickets, according to police, today were fined $10 and costs following a hearing before Justice Harry W. Scott.

Both were committed to jail for 30 days in default of the fine. Since the Charleroi mine of the Youghiogheny & Ohio Coal company resumed operations a week ago, State police and deputies have patrolled the roads, preserving order among the pickets.

Correct this sentence: "Yes, another picture like that might make money," said the movie magnate "but I won't copycat a competitor."

For variety on the Sunday outing, you can pass a few cars and then look at another kind of spare.

New York Cops Pound Air Beats To Save Lives, Enforce Aerial Laws

Eight Pilots, 16 Mechanics of Gotham Police Patrol of Skies Make Six Daily Trips About Metropolis and Vicinity to Safeguard Public from Reckless Fliers and Rescue Those in Distress.

ONE OF THE BEACHES PATROLLED BY AIR POLICE

Unheralded and unsung, the real "fly cops" of the New York Police Department are rendering a real service to the metropolis which they guard from the skies. While "fly cops" have been known by jokesters for years, it is still news to many people, even in Gotham, that there are four planes, manned by eight expert pilots and mechanics, guarding their welfare a long way up. Engaged in patrolling the city and surrounding waters from the sky on six daily trips of about 120 miles each, the aerial beat pounders of the "Finest" watch for planes breaking the regulations of the Federal and State Governments. They watch for drowning bathers at the far-reaching beaches, scan the waters over which they fly for capsize boats and any craft in distress. In short, the bluecoats in the sky, drawing the same pay as their comrades far below them, strive to render the same service which any efficient copper is proud to do. Through the courtesy of the Air Division, the writer and a photographer were taken on a typical sky patrol by Pilot Terranova and Mechanic-Observer Sullivan, who explained their work en route and proved, conclusively, just how valuable their novel unit is to New York's millions.

marks, which caused them to rap on the door.

Cole opened the door and came out but the girl at first refused to come out and closed and locked the door. The officers said she was finally persuaded to come out. She claimed to have been there to have a tooth treated, and the doctor made the same statement. However, she and Cole were arrested by the police, the girl giving the name of Catherine Miller, 132 Mahoning avenue. Cole put up a forfeit of $15 and the girl of $10 and neither appeared for a hearing this morning before Mayor W. H. Gillespie.

Candidates Are Endorsed By Club Monday Evening

Pershing Club Board Makes Endorsements After Interviewing Office-Seekers

(International News Service) GEORGETOWN S. C., Aug. 4.—Bodies of 4 of the 19 persons drowned when a school bus returning from an outing plunged through an open drawbridge on the Sampit River here last night, were recovered today.

Seventeen of the victims were negroes. The two white victims were the owner of the bus, Warren Newton, 45 and his son Olin Newton, 18.

The only survivor of the tragedy was a five year old negro boy who apparently was thrown through the window of the bus as it leaped into the river, and thus escaped the fate of the nineteen who were trapped in 20 feet of water.

The tragedy occurred at 10 o'clock last night when the bus, privately owned and operated, was returned from Charleston where the occupants, mostly adults had attended a negro outing.

Searchers began attempts to recover the bodies early today and after several hours labor had removed bodies of four of the negro victims.

Naval Officers Urge United States Build Up Strong Army-Navy

Prestige Of America's Economic, Political And Diplomatic Policies At Stake

Williamstown Institute Hears Urgent Plea For Stronger Arms Maintenance

By E. W. ROBBINS
International News Service Special Correspondent

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 4.—The prestige of America's economic, political and diplomatic policies depend on the maintenance of a superior navy and army capable of rapid expansion, two United States naval officers, Admiral W. L. Rodgers and Captain John Willies Greenslade, Monday told the Williamstown Institute.

The two naval officers made a sharp rebuttal to the arguments in favor of the United States immediate disarmament presented to the institute Friday and Saturday by Norman Thomas, Socialist leader and a battery of foreign experts.

Accomplished By Force
Admiral Rodgers declared that the two chief functions of government are the preservation of order and the enforcement of contracts and pointed out that both objectives are accomplished by force.

"The policeman, the jailer and the hangman, are all essential in the life of a community," Admiral Rodgers said. "We too often forget that right can triumph over evil only by a superior force.

"Similarly, in international relations, nations depend on their armed forces to make right prevail. In Russia for instance, a certain form of order prevails which is protected and sustained by the Red Army. Although the other nations do not like it, they acquiesce in it because the Red Army is strong."

Admiral Rodgers said that although the Russian government is a proselytizing organization which would like to overthrow the style of order that prevails in other countries, yet it allows our form of society to exist without interference because in each country its form of law is guarded by arms.

"Every country," Admiral Rodgers continued, "holds what it prizes because it is strong enough to be dangerous to those who wish it evil."

Captain Greenslade, declared that with the commercial development of the United States a new type of empire has arisen, an intangible one of finance. The protection of this empire, Captain Greenslade pointed out, depends in the last analysis upon the armed and potential strength of the national government.

Henry Cabot Lodge, editorial writer, expressed the opinion that there could be little hope of any success of disarmament at the Geneva conference, if the present national policies were to persist and predicted that the "principal effort of each nation will be to shift the blame for failure on to some other nation."

"Instead of a serious effort at arms reduction," he said, "the conference may well assume the aspect of a game." He prophesied that the American diplomats will be outgeneraled when it comes to a question of mere diplomatic sidestepping.

Motor Vehicle Code Changes

Digest of the amendments to the motor vehicle code as prepared by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation with which the New Castle Motor Club is affiliated, continued from yesterday, follow:

This section has also been amended permitting the driver of a vehicle to overtake and pass any other vehicle in the same direction at any intersection of highways or at an intersection of highways on the highway having two or more lanes for movement of traffic in one direction. This section has been amended giving the operator the right to pass on the right under the same conditions. This amendment is now in effect, etc.

This section has also been amended making it unlawful for the driver of a vehicle to overtake and pass or attempt to pass any other vehicle proceeding in the same direction between any points indicated by the placing of temporary warning or caution signs indicating that men are working on the highway. This amendment is now in effect, etc.

SECTION 1009—has been amended making it unlawful for a driver of a vehicle to drive upon or cross the car tracks within the intersection in front of a street car when the street car has started to cross the intersection. This amendment is now in effect, etc.

SECTION 1010—has been amended making it unlawful for any operator of any motor bus, motor omnibus, commercial motor vehicle, truck-tractor or tractor traveling upon a highway outside of a business or residence district to follow another such vehicle within five hundred feet except for passing. Heretofore, the distance was one hundred feet. This amendment is now in effect, etc.

SECTION 1014—has been amended so that an operator of a vehicle who has stopped at a stop intersection wields the right of way to oncoming traffic. This amendment is now in effect, etc.

IF we can install an Automatic Gas Burner in your home in August

This unusual offer of a full $15 reduction in price and extremely liberal payment terms if you let us put in a Conversion Gas Burner during August, frankly are for the purpose of getting prospective users of gas heat to act now!

Last Fall in the rush of heating equipment installations we were forced to disappoint hundreds of our customers because there simply wasn't time to take care of all. We want to be able to serve everyone this season and accordingly we make the $15 price sacrifice so that our installation crew can get a big start on the season's work.

AS LITTLE AS $5 DOWN
Terms never were more liberal. As little as $5 will do for a down payment. You needn't pay anything more until October. During December, January and February payments will be only $1 per month. And you have 24 months to take care of the balance.

But, remember, this offer is good only for orders we receive now with permission to make immediate installation. The full installed price of $185 goes back into effect at the close.

GAS HEAT FOR EVERYONE
Every family interested in improving home living conditions wants automatic gas heat. Everyone knows how much more satisfactory it is than old fashioned hand fired methods. Everyone knows how the uniform temperature, that gas heat provides, protects the health of the whole family. And every woman knows that gas heat cuts housework in half and leaves her free of all heating troubles.

Everyone knows all these advantages of gas heat but many are held back from it by a mistaken idea as to its cost and the cost of equipment.

FITS IN ANY FURNACE

With the Conversion Gas Burner you do not need a new furnace or boiler. It slips into any coal furnace or heating boiler without changing your heating system in the least. And particularly for the duration of this offer you can have the change made with hardly any outlay... as little as $5 will do.

Gas heat is economical, too. Because of the automatic controls and thermostatic regulators, no fuel ever is wasted. Just enough and only enough is used to keep your home at even temperature.

ASK FOR FREE ESTIMATE

And when you install a gas heating machine under our plan you do not "buy a pig in a poke." Our heating engineers will gladly give you a reliable estimate of the season's fuel cost. You can know in advance of purchase just about what it will cost to heat your home.

Further, your gas heating installation is guaranteed to heat your home to your entire satisfaction.

If you will send in the coupon below or telephone the Gas Office we will arrange to give you a free estimate on heating your home... without obligation. It will pay you to act now while you can save $15 and enjoy our liberal August purchase payment terms.

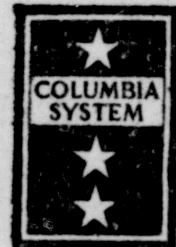

Fits any coal furnace or boiler...

MORE ABOUT AIR DISTURBANCE CALLED A "LOW"
By Arthur Dev. Carpenter

The vast area of low barometer pressure turning anti-clockwise—a cyclone—drawing in air from all points of the compass, travels eastward because the planetary winds in northern latitudes are westerlies

(from the west). The "low" journeys in summer about 600 miles per day. The height of the disturbance is about five miles. Since air blows into from all points of the compass, naturally as the low approaches us from the west, we first feel an east wind. As the low passes over us the wind veers from east to southeast, then to south, and later to west. But if the center of the low is south of us, the wind backs up.

New Scout Troop Is Invested Here

Shelby Troop Seven Officials Preside At Investiture Monday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—Another troop was added last night to the growing number in Lawrence County Scout Council, when a group affiliated with the Young Italian Catholic Club of Ellwood City, was invested by a group from Shelby troop 7 of Ellwood City. The new troop, meeting in the B. V. M. P. Italian Catholic church, was addressed by Rev. Galliano at the close of the investiture, and were earnestly reminded of the pledges they had just taken.

The investing troop and officials included Scoutmaster Vincent Hampton, committeemen John Lindgren and district commissioner Jack Pearson, with deputy Elden Daner. These men administered the oath to the following staff of officials on the new troop: scoutmaster, W. D. Latiano; assistant, J. P. Gottuso, Henry Bianco, and J. T. Metz; troop committeemen, Louis J. Parillo (chairman and district representative), Rev. Vincent Galliano, D. F. Barsotti, Charles Maletta and Arthur Sariano.

Farmer Hurt In Highway Crash

ZELIENOPLE, Aug. 4.—William Scheel north of Harmony was injured and his buggy in which he was riding was badly damaged, when struck by an automobile on the Perry highway. Mr. Scheel, who is a farmer, lives about two miles north of Harmony on the Perry highway, and started to town about noon driving a horse and buggy, with a load of butter and eggs, and some other produce from the farm. He had gone about a mile, and was near the Stauffer farm, when he was struck by a machine, thrown from the buggy and cut and bruised badly. The driver of the machine stopped, called Dr. A. I. Stewart of Harmony who dressed the wounds, and he was taken to his home, where he is resting easy. He was badly cut about the face, it requiring 15 stitches to close the cuts, and the buggy in which he was riding was completely demolished. Just how the accident occurred is not known. Mr. Scheel being at the side of the road, and the driver of the machine must have lost control of his machine. The horse was not badly injured, but the buggy was demolished, the wood part being broken into small pieces. Produce was scattered from some distance around where the accident happened.

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—Mrs. C. W. McDaniel was a charming hostess to the members of the Occette Bridge club at their regular meeting at her home last night on the Ellwood Country Club road.

Bridge was the chief diversion of the evening with two tables being in play for the greater part of the evening. At the conclusion of the games Miss Saline Hazen was presented the high score favor.

At an appointed hour a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Jay Buquo. The club will meet again in two weeks at a place to be later determined.

Lewis Family Has Annual Reunion

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—The annual reunion of the Lewis family was held at the summer home of Thomas Lewis at Fombell on Saturday afternoon. A sports program, games and bathing was the feature of the day. The baseball game between mixed teams of men and women proved very exciting and interesting. The picnic dinner served at 6 o'clock drew a sign of pleasure from those present. There were about 15 families present on the occasion.

KOPPEL

MANY ATTEND PICNIC.

Many attended the Koppel M. E. Sunday school picnic that was held at Greener's Grove, Saturday. Sports of all sorts were enjoyed and prizes were awarded to winners of various races and games. Swimming was also an important event. Those attending left from Koppel by truck at one o'clock and returned at nine having had their picnic dinner at the grove. The appointed committees were in charge of their respective activities. Rev. S. L. Burson supervised the complete day.

RETURNS HOME.

Miss Alva Stuckwisch returned to her home at Clinton Monday evening having spent the past week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. W. Law.

SPECIAL PRACTICES.

The Koppel M. E. Girls' choir met at the church Monday evening. A special practice for this evening and Wednesday was called to prepare the selections to be sung at a program to be given at a later date. The regular practice night is Friday evening. Dr. W. H. Shields of Ellwood City, is choir director.

VISITS AUNT.

Little Joanne Thomas of Akron, Ohio, is spending a few weeks at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Laughner. She accompanied Mrs. Laughner and son Richard, to Koppel, the latter having been visiting at Akron for a short time. Dale Laughner, a younger son, remained with his aunt for a longer visit.

KOPPEL NOTES.

Miss Madolyn Rodgers has returned to her home having spent the week-end at the home of her cousin at Beaver Falls. J. A. Fischer returned home Monday after visiting at the home of his parents at Brackenridge during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruner of Butler, visited at the home of their son and his family at Koppel Sunday. Charles Rorers left for a fishing trip at Oil Lake above Oil City where he is planning to remain for a few days. Henry Weiderhold of Salem, Ohio, motored to Koppel where he visited at the home of friends, Sunday.

SHOULD THE CHILDREN EAT IT?

PARENTS, particularly mothers, are paying a lot of attention to children's diet these days. For it is far more economical and pleasant to keep a child well by feeding him correctly than by nursing and doctoring him back to health.

Of course the doctor should be consulted regarding what a child should eat, what he should not eat. But do you realize that the leading manufacturers of food now seek the advice and approval of the leading nutritional authorities in the country, relative to the claims they make for their products in their advertising?

In other words, food advertisements are reliable sources of information regarding diet. They are based upon the results of the latest approved scientific discoveries about vitamins, minerals and roughage, in relation to vigorous bodies, clear complexions, sound teeth and properly regulated systems.

So read these advertisements carefully. Consult your doctor about them. Very often the advertiser invites you to do this because he has asked authorities, whom your doctor respects, about those advertisements first.

Kit Carson—20. Up The Missouri

LATE IN MAY, 1842, A LITTLE STEAM-BOAT WAS PUFFING UP THE MISSOURI RIVER, CARRYING LIEUTENANT FRÉMONT KIT CARSON AND THE REST OF THE EX-PLORING PARTY FROM ST. LOUIS TO CHOUTEAU'S LANDING, WHICH WAS TO BE THE STARTING POINT OF THE EXPEDITION.

(Copyright, 1931, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

REACHING CHOUTEAU'S, THE EXPLORERS LANDED AND MADE FINAL PREPARATIONS FOR THEIR LONG MARCH. WITH THE BAGGAGE AND SUPPLIES LOADED IN COVERED WAGONS, FRÉMONT, WITH 20 MEN SET OUT TO THE WEST, FOLLOWING THE KANSAS RIVER AND KEEPING ON THE LOOKOUT FOR HOSTILE INDIANS.

ONE DAY THE GREENEST "TENDERFOOT" IN THE PARTY, WHO HAD LOITERED IN THE REAR OF THE COLUMN, DASHED UP IN GREAT EXCITEMENT WITH THE ALARMING NEWS THAT 27 "INJUNS" WERE STEALTHILY FOLLOWING THE CARAVAN. CARSON BOLDLY GALLOPED BACK ALONE TO INVESTIGATE.

RIDING TO THE CREST OF A KNOLL COMMANDING A VIEW OF ALL THE SURROUNDING COUNTRY, KIT QUICKLY DISCOVERED THAT THE "27 INJUNS" WERE NOTHING BUT SIX ELK GRAZING PEACEFULLY ON THE PRAIRIE.

"Lefty" Grove To Try For Record

"Lefty" Grove Of Athletics Hangs Up His Twenty Second Victory—Wants More

BAGY SET RECORD WITH 31 VICTORIES

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—With his "games won" total increased to twenty-two today by his 3 to 2 triumph over Washington yesterday, Robert Moses Grove, angular southpaw of the Philadelphia Athletics, has his heart set on chalking up a new record for modern baseball by winning thirty-two games this season. And he has an excellent chance to turn the trick.

To date Grove has been on the mound approximately one of every four games played by the A's. The team has fifty more games on its schedule. Assuming that the brilliant southpaw will work in thirteen of them, he has a fair chance of registering the ten additional triumphs that he needs to eclipse the mark of thirty-one games won by Sergeant Jim Bagby of Cleveland in 1920.

Is Some Task
For most pitchers, winning ten out of thirteen starts would be a tougher task than locating Judge Crater. Grove, however, would be "slipping" if he lost more than two out of thirteen, for he has lost only twice while recording his twenty-two triumphs to date.

Should Grove surpass Bagby's mark of thirty-one wins, his total would exceed that of any American League pitcher since 1912, when Walter Johnson turned in thirty-six victories.

First U. P. Team Defeats Epworth

The First U. P. mullball team took an 8 to 6 victory over Epworth M. E. at North Highland field last night. T. Davis pitched good ball for the winners, with Clarence Davis and Klee doing a lot of timely batting, the former having a double and triple, and the latter a triple, which won the game.

Field Club—"Mun" To Play Tomorrow

Municipal Golfing Team Will Play At Field Club Course On Wednesday

The New Castle Field Club and Municipal golfing teams will battle on the Field Club course on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It was announced by Walter "Hub" Hart, manager of the Muny team today.

The Municipal team beat the Field Club in a recent 18 hole match at the Muny links and they are out to make it two straight over the veterans of the Field Club, however, this is going to be a tough job on the Field Club layout and a fine match is looked for.

The following Muny players are asked to get in touch with either Manager Hart or Mose Mancine before noon on Wednesday: M. K. Gillingham, Hackett, Kennedy, R. W. Molesworth, W. F. Fleming, C. P. Mele, W. Twaddle, Art Prioletti, Olie G. West, M. Lombardo, Rex Hughes, Fred Leslie and W. D. Southworth. This is the same team that defeated the Field Club.

CITIZENS LUMBER WINS

The Citizens Lumber mullball team formerly the Hunters defeated the Pump Station 15 to 15 in a mullball game last night at Harding Field. The game was a free hitting affair. Lock, Stanley and Snow featured with homers.

Kennedy-Molesworth Will Play Tonight

Dave Leonardson Wins Championship In Class B Division At Muny Course

Tonight at 5:30 o'clock the long awaited Molesworth-Kennedy semifinal match for the July elimination tournament at the Municipal links will be staged. Both are well known golfing stars and they shoot in the low 80s. The match promises to be very interesting. The winner will play A. Vito for the class A championship. Vito defeated Tucker Nolan 4 and 3 to win his way to the finals.

In the class B division Dave Leonardson is the champion, having defeated Phil Colaluca 2 up to win the title. This was a very interesting and exciting match. Both young men played fine golf.

Cincinnati Ties All-Time Record

Cincinnati Reds Have Been Held Scoreless For Four Straight Games

CLEVELAND TEAM
FINALLY WINS

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Cincinnati Reds tied an all-time major league record yesterday as they crumpled before the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 0. It was their fourth consecutive shutout. No team has ever reached the humility of five consecutive horse-collarings, but great things may be expected of the cellar-loving Reds of 1931.

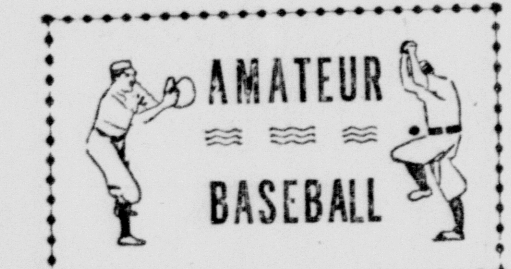

George Connally, who would not have been surprised while with the White Sox if they asked him to shine shoes, won a ball game for the Cleveland Indians, defeating the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 3.

The Athletics continued their wearying winning, taking from the Senators. Grove was too good in the first, snugging it 3 to 2 and in the night cap homers by Simmons, Fox and Todd, aided Earnshaw in a 6 to 5 triumph. The A's are now 12 games out in front.

Use Five Pitchers.
The Boston Red Sox used five pitchers in an effort to beat the New York Yankees but finally threw their hands up in the air and collapsed, 9 to 8. Ten walks helped the Yanks. Combs walking four times. Webb, Boston outfielder who is out to break the major league two-bagger record, whacked doubles No. 50 and 51.

Red Faber showed his age, folding up before the attack of the Detroit Tigers, who routed the Chicago White Sox 7 to 2. Faber took his shower in the eighth inning after allowing the Tigers to convert seven hits into five runs.

Other teams were idle.

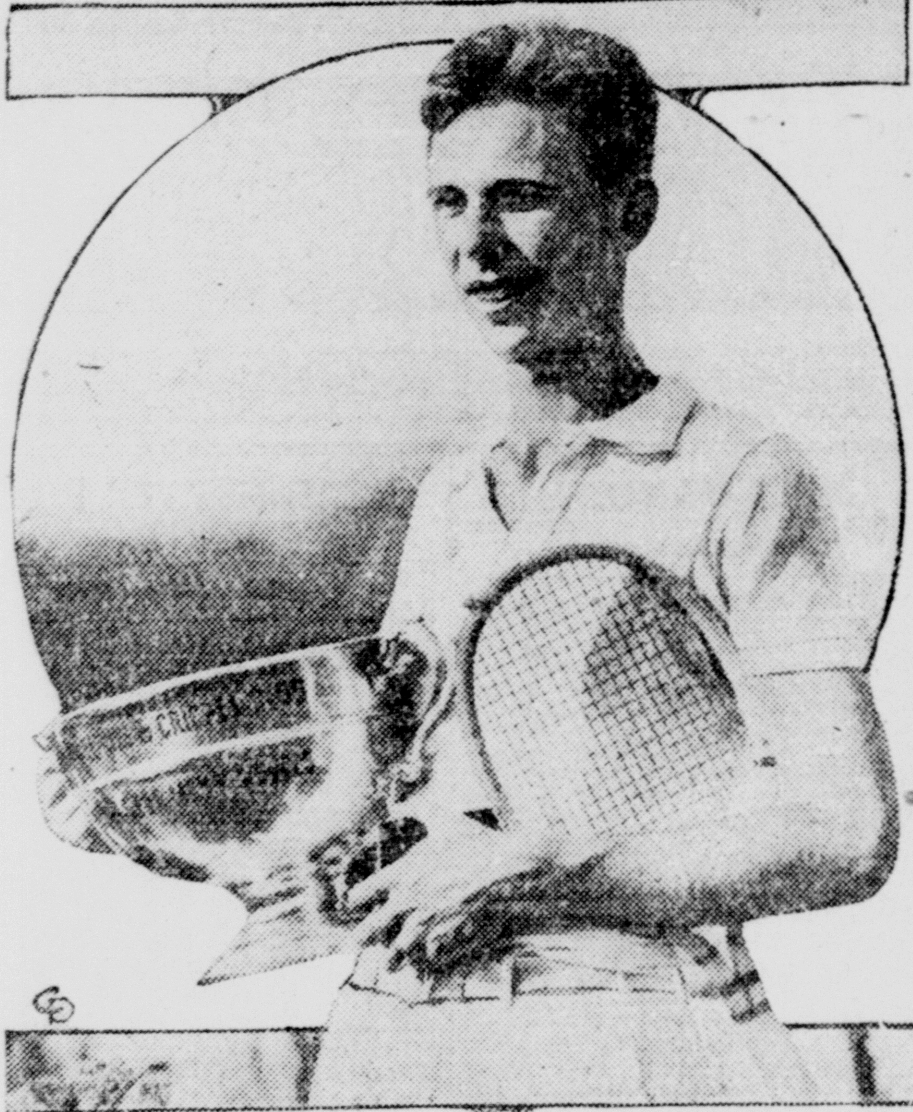

The Scarazzo Midgents topped the Beaver Street Stars 7 to 4 in a game at the Beaver Street Field last night. The game was featured by a lot of heavy hitting. S. Bullano hurled a fine game for the winners.

MARCELLAS WIN GAME
The Marcellas of the Class B league of midgets took a 10 to 3 victory over the Youngstown Colored Girls midget team last night in a game at the B. & O. Field. Campoli and B. Pascarella hurled for the Marcellas. Palus, Lamb and Biondi featured with homers.

America won't be very air-minded until somebody discovers that air travel does something to the teeth or breath.

Defeats National Champ

Ellsworth Vines, of California, is shown with the coveted Sea Bright Tennis Cup, which he won after a hard-fought court duel with John Hope Doeg, national tennis champion. The score was 10-12, 6-8, 6-3, 8-6 and 6-1. The five-set struggle was one of the most gruelling ever witnessed in the famous New Jersey tennis tourney.

GOLF for GIRLS

By GLENNA COLLETT

Women's National Golf Champion.
Written for Central Press and The New Castle News.

NUMBER 10

To become a successful match player you must develop the so-called "competitive mind."

I have found there are three necessary qualities for this:

1. Love of combat.
2. Calmness under fire.
3. Courage.

Men are apt to be better competitive golfers than women. They are, usually, born fighters. Theirs by inheritance is the combative spirit.

As to being calm under fire, it takes a cool player to accept bad breaks along with the good. You must be able to do this, calmly, to succeed.

Even the cool players must apply themselves to the immediate task, to the shot at hand, forgetting the mistakes of a few moments ago and not worrying about the future. The third attribute—fearlessness—I think, is obligatory, too. When fear grips the mind, the muscles stiffen. That is a law in competition not to be forgotten. A bad case of stage fright has lost many an important golf match.

In our next golf chat I'll try to tell you how to "play the wind" on a breezy day.

Cancos Defeat Spencers 32-9

The Cancos of the American Can Company walloped the Spencers 32 to 9 in a midget league game at Washington Field last night. Beres on the hill for the Cancos pitched an eight hit game, and fanned five men. The Cancos banged the ball for thirty-one safe hits.

Join the Silvertown Safety League today

Trade in those doubtful tires. Why take chances when you can be SAFE with Heat-Tested, Speed-Tested Silvertowns?

EVERY day scores of gruesome tragedies occur on the streets and highways of this country. Human bodies, like this car, are being twisted and mangled needlessly.

32,500 people were killed—960,000 injured in automobile accidents last year. How can we put a stop to it? By having as many local motorists as possible sign and observe the SILVERTOWN SAFETY LEAGUE PLEDGE.

One of these pledges is waiting at our store for your signature. Come in and sign it today. Join in this nation-wide movement to save lives. It costs you nothing.

Women Tennis Stars Clash

Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, Will Play Mrs. Shepherd-Barron Of England

MAIDSTONE CLUB TITLE AT STAKE

(International News Service)
EASTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, who holds the No. 7 American ranking, today stood between a British victory in the Sixth Annual Maidstone Club invitation. She will clash this afternoon with the captain of the English Wightman cup team, Mrs. Shepherd-Barron, in the finals.
Mrs. Shepherd-Barron holds one leg on the William H. Woodin gold cup, as do Mrs. Molla Malloy, who is now out of competition; Miss Marjorie Morrill, of Dedham, Mass., who was eliminated this week; and Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, of San Francisco, who has won this tournament twice.
Mrs. Van Ryn had two matches which would have caused much husky feminine stars to fold up. But she eliminated the tenacious Bostonian, Mrs. Corbier, by scores of 3-6, 6-2, 6-1, and less than two hours later won from Mrs. Jessup by counts of 6-4, 10-8.
Mrs. Van Ryn's driving was excellent and her rapid-fire attack at the net was a revelation.

Her opponent of today had a three-set struggle before she won. Mrs. Shepherd-Barron encountered a very eager and easy National ranking star, Miss Mary Greef, of Kansas City, and finally emerged by scores of 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Greenville Man Is New President Servicemen's Club

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 4.—Major William G. Smith, of Grove City, president of the recently organized service men's organization here, handed in his resignation last evening at a meeting of the association in the Mercer court house.
Major Smith, who has been tendered the caucus election of the democratic party, will be succeeded in the office of president by C. B. Homer of Greenville. Stanley Fuhrer, of Fredonia, was named vice president.
(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Showers last night forced the postponement of the 10-round bout between Primo Carnera and Roberto Roberti at Dreamland Park, Newark. It will be held tonight.
At the weigh-in yesterday afternoon Carnera weighed 274, Roberti 224.

Five Passengers On Train Are Killed In Jugoslavia Today

Five Time Bombs Wreck Train At Susak, Jugoslavia— Bombs Hidden In Cars

(International News Service)
VIENNA, Aug. 4.—Five passengers were killed and many injured when five time bombs exploded on a railway train near Susak, Jugoslavia, it was reported today in dispatches from Belgrade.

The bombs had been hidden in two cars of the train.

In an effort to prevent such outrages, blamed by the government on Croatian agitators, the Yugoslavian government recently promulgated an order prohibiting any but Yugoslavian national railway trains from entering Yugoslavian territory. All passengers entering the country are obliged to transfer at the border to Yugoslavian trains.

Bears Cause Stock Prices To Be Lower

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The stock market was completely under the dominance of bearish professionalism today, and once more the trend of the list was toward lower price levels.

Trading sentiment was considerably disturbed by the failure of sponsorship to make its appearance in the recognized pivotal leaders. Thus the renewal of weakness in American Can, which broke to a new 1931 low at 89 1/2 for a loss of approximately 2 points influenced sympathetically 2 points in other ranking favorites. Case Threshing established its daily new low mark this time at 51 1/2 for a new decline of 1 1/2 points. While Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, and other bear targets were off from 1 to 2 points.

Steel shares were adversely affected by advices from the Youngstown district showing that current operations are at 33 per cent of capacity, a decline of 9 per cent from the beginning of the week. U. S. Steel dropped 1 1/2 points to 94 1/2 with Bethlehem dipping 1 1/2 points to 36 1/2.

Coppers were under pressure on announcement that the export price of the Red Metal had been reduced to 8 cents, and that Domestic Copper was obtainable as low as 7 1/2 cents a pound. Anaconda fell to 24 1/2 for a loss of 3/4 while Kennecott was fractionally lower at 17 1/2. American Telephone was in the forefront of the setback in the Utilities, showing a loss of 1 1/2 points at 170.

Auburn was under moderate pressure in a slightly easier motor list, with a decline of 1 1/2 points at 143. Amusements and Oils were sympathetically lower.

Some encouragement was afforded to bullish traders by the fact that turnover for the first half hour at 100,000 shares was but half of yesterday's trading in the same period.

Disease Threatens Refugees In China

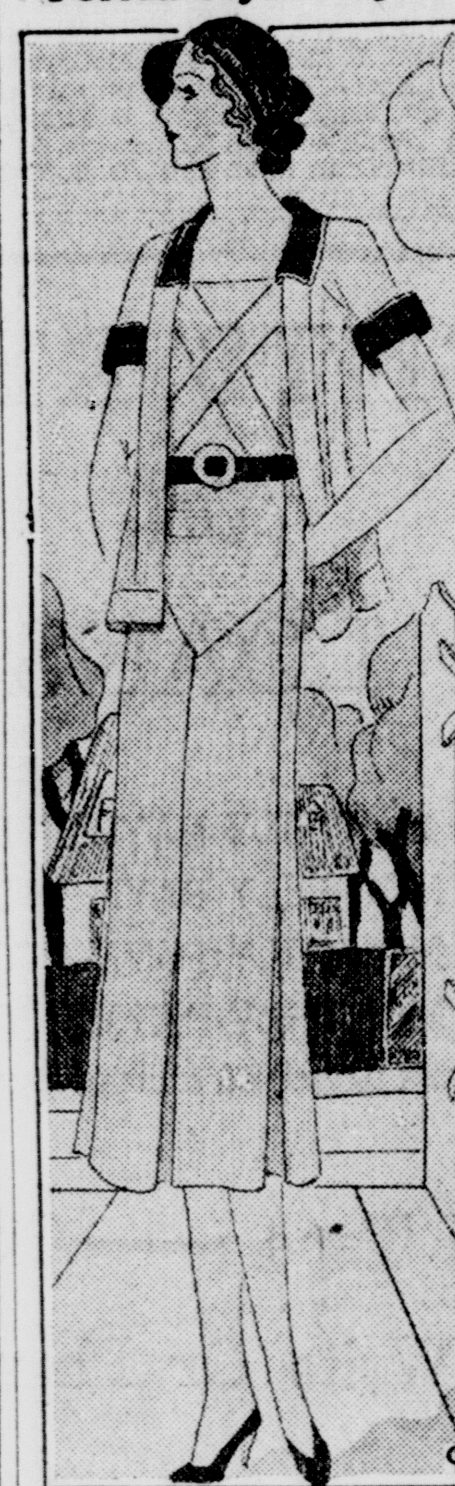

Flood Waters Of Yangtze River At Hankow, China, Cause Suffering

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Disease threatens the refugees of the flood waters of the Yangtze river at Hankow, China, the American consul cabled the State Department today. The homeless are quartered within a small area and are without adequate sanitary arrangements.

He said the Jardine estate area in the residential district, was under 20 feet of water yesterday. The water broke through a railroad embankment supporting a breakwater Sunday.

Four Condemned Slayings Will Die Monday, August 17

All Hope Gone For Four Cambria County Slayings Scheduled To Die In Two Weeks

(International News Service)

EBensburg, Pa., Aug. 4.—The last hope of the four convicted Cambria county slayers of Louis Hoffman had been removed today. Frank Cantilla, Carl Crow, Frank Powell and Joe Parsi all will die in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary August 17.

Sealing the fate of the quartet, the Cambria county court handed down an opinion refusing new trials to the men which had been sought on grounds of after-discovered evidence.

Crow and Cantilla were granted respite by the governor five hours before they were scheduled to be electrocuted on June 1. The order was granted to permit the case to be thrown back into the county court for hearing of testimony relating to the purported after-discovered evidence.

Hoffman was killed at his father's home in Adams township July 14, 1928.

Governor Pinchot Visits Mt. Gretna

Chief Executive Speaks To 200 Officers Of State National Guard

STATE PREPARED FOR ANY DISORDER

(International News Service) CAMP KENT, MT. GRETTA, Pa., Aug. 4.—Pennsylvania's national guard will be summoned into the field if anticipated trouble and disorder materializes in western Pennsylvania as a result of the widespread mine strike and labor troubles.

That was definitely assured today by the commander-in-chief of the state military establishment—Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

Addressing some 200 officers of the 28th division, whose dinner guest he was on his first visit of the year to the state troops' training camp, the governor told the officers he would "have no hesitation whatever in calling out the national guard" if rumors of threatened disorders are verified.

Hope To Avoid Trouble.

"You and I," the governor said, "both hope that it will be many long years before the national guard is required to put into practice the lessons it has learned at Mt. Gretna. But if the time ever comes I have not the slightest doubt that the guard will give a good account of itself."

"There are rumors flying about already of the possibility of disorders in western Pennsylvania during the coming winter. If these rumors are verified, as I earnestly hope they will not be, the cause will not lie with Pennsylvania but with agitators from other states. We know already such agitators have been attempting to make trouble. We do not believe they will succeed."

"We have a common pride in Pennsylvania and we propose to handle our own affairs peacefully and in an orderly manner no matter who attempts to incite disorder. This is our state and Pennsylvania proposes to run it in the tradition of William Penn."

Sleeps in Tent.

The governor, after inspecting the training camp and spending the night in an army tent, rose early today and reviewed the 56th brigade, now at the reservation.

Western Pennsylvania guardsmen of the 112th infantry, led by Col. C. B. Smathers of Grove City, headed the parade as the troops swung past the governor and the division staff on the parade grounds.

Infantrymen of the 11th, commanded by Col. Charles B. Finley, from eastern Pennsylvania, followed and the 103rd medical regiment, under Col. William M. Iland, and the 28th division train, led by Maj. George P. Drake, brought up the rear.

Regimental bands playing and all moving with the smart precision of veterans, the brigade swung by to round after round of applause from visitors who thronged the camp.

The governor expressed himself high pleased with efficiency and spirit of the men and told the brigade "we lead the procession in national guard training and I am exceedingly proud of it."

Burgess McGowan's Pocket Is Picked

PROSPECT, Pa., Aug. 4.—Burgess J. A. McGowan of Prospect is hunting his pocketbook.

A big celebration was in progress at Saxenburg last week and Saturday night Burgess McGowan decided to visit the carnival.

With a well filled pocketbook the burgess stepped out. A short time after reaching Saxenburg, he reached for his pocketbook.

It wasn't there. He went to officials and just as he arrived on the scene four other men from the Butler district appeared complaining that their pocketbooks had been taken.

Two City Youths To Hear Farmer's Charges Wednesday

Cross Information Charges Pair With Larceny And Trespassing In Shenango

Held for the September court in bail of $500 on a charge of aggravated assault and battery because he is alleged by two New Castle boys with having aimed a gun at them and ordered: "Don't move, or I'll shoot." Samuel Reno, Savannah road, Shenango township farmer has sworn to cross information charging trespassing and larceny against the pair.

The city youths, Rudolph Eagan, 601 Wall street, and Paul LaScala, 607 Wall street, caused the arrest of the farmer. A hearing was held before Alderman Richard R. Lewis, Friday, and Reno was held for court after pleading "not guilty."

The charge against the farmer grew out of a visit of the boys to the Savannah road district last Wednesday, when Reno is alleged in the information of the pair to have approached them, gun in hand and made the command to stop or he would shoot. Reno is alleged to have struck Eagan on the chin with the butt of his gun and then taken a pull of berries which the boys had picked.

Eagan and LaScala claim the berries were not picked on the man's property, but on the roadway.

Reno appeared before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton and charged the boys with trespassing on his property and stealing the berries. A hearing on the new charges will be held at Hamilton's office Wednesday evening.

Mercer County Plans Bridges

Three Small Structures Will Be Built Yet This Summer By Commissioners

MERCER, Aug. 4.—Three bridges costing $1,000 each, will be built by Mercer County this summer. Two of the structures are in Salem township and one in South Pymatuning. They are all small bridges.

Repairs on two bridges will also be asked in the contract made with the commissioners who will advertise for bids as soon as specifications are prepared by County Engineer F. P. Graham.

SEEK CITIZENSHIP

A list of 75 aliens is carded for hearing at the September Naturalization Court of September 28-29. It will be the second court of this character during this year, the previous being held in May.

Preparations for the term are being made now by Prothonotary Daisy T. Morse.

TO EXHIBIT PRODUCTS

The 60 boys of the sweet corn clubs of Hickory, Sharon and Transfer will exhibit their product, August 7, at the Sharon Curb market. The fields from which the corn will be pulled will be scored by Walter Nisley of State College and Farm Agent Harold Waha.

The corn is being grown from seed donated by the boys by the Sharon Kiwanis Club who are responsible for this agricultural movement. A round-up will be held this fall when the champion will be named.

INSPECT BRIDGE

Inspection of the 500 bridge in this county is now under way and will be completed this month. They are found in better shape than expected. The bridges of this county as a whole are in the best condition in county history.

Two In Chicago Are Wounded By Knives

Recurrence Of Trouble In Negro Section Results In Two Being Wounded

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Two men were wounded today in a recurrence of disturbances in the negro section of the city where three negroes were killed yesterday during a riot. Jerry Alterio, 28, and Michael Lobranco, 27, were cut by knives wielded by Leon Henderson, 29, and Horace Sims, 38, both negroes. The negroes told police they drew knives when the two men accused them of plotting a riot. They were held by police.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

It begins to look very much as though there were some inside work being done in the matter of rains, with the folks up on the north hill having something on the weather man. At least the east side wants to know how come.

Yesterday for instance. A couple of nice cooling rains for the north hill and hardly enough to give a doodlebug a drink out on the east side. Whimsical rains. Spotty ones, that hit here and there and miss everything in between.

Up on the far end of the north hill Monday afternoon they had a bang up rain. One that brought life back to the lawns and hope back to the flowers. Filled up the sewers and saved the folks the necessity of getting out the hose last night.

Out on the east side there was only a spot and the water meters took a nasty pushing around last night as a result. Calls for an investigation or something.

This job on the East Washington street bridge is an interesting thing if you have time to talk to the engineer on the job, Glen Throop. To the idle spectator they're just digging a hole and filling it up, but the explanation back of it is interesting.

The middle support of the bridge, concrete, has deteriorated with the years and a coffer dam is being built around it. A coffer dam is no kin to one used by tinkers. The way you build them, according to the instructions is to get yourself some steel sheeting each piece of which has a shoulder on it. These shoulders hook together and are nearly water tight. Driving them into the ground makes a deep basin and this basin is filled up with concrete.

The finished job has a solid facing of steel stopping the water and the concrete interior isn't bothered by the water.

There is a peculiar earth formation in the Neshannock creek at the bridge, according to Mr. Throop. On one side of the creek the foundation is sand and requires piling, on the other side is almost solid rock capable of holding enormous weight.

The Johnson building is built on the rock and yet out in the stream a short way the foundation is so soft that scores of piling are necessary. The rock strata seems to run on the bias, for up the stream at the North street bridge, the rock foundation is in the middle of the stream.

When the North street bridge was built it was assumed that it would be necessary to use piling under the center pier. Three feet down the engineers ran into the rock formation. And now some of you amateur geologists might figure out whether or not there was an earth fall or fault in the formation up there, and whether or not it had been caused by a slip, or a slight earthquake years ago.

This may be the same rock strata that runs up through the approach to the north hill. You'll remember that when the Cathedral was built, to the surprise of the engineers they found a pocket of quick sand in the hill necessitating a lot of piling.

Or it may be the continuation of that young mountain of rock that fringes the Neshannock in the Narrows. When the Narrows were widened last winter it was necessary to blast out part of it with explosives.

And as long as you're wondering, you might wonder what effect that quake of several years ago had on the substrates. Whether it shifted some of the rock formations, whether it corrected some faults down in the earth, or whether it was just Old Mother Earth enjoying a chuckle at the antics of mere man.
